GE Calls Back 67 Employees; Due Monday

Sales Outstrip
Production Says
Plant Manager

A total of 67 employees of the local General Electric plant either have been or will be recalled to work by next Monday.

This is more than a third of the approximately 180 laid off here in May and June. Current production of fluorescent lamps at the plant is not enough to meet the demand.

The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, manager of the Cincinnati Lamp plant. He said, "Excess stocks have been sold and another line will be put into production Monday."

Actually, 43 persons already have been recalled and another 24 will be on the job Monday morning. Both men and women have been called back, Grigg said, and others will be recalled as soon as they are needed.

Grigg pointed out that the recall is the result of a sales upturn, which, in turn, requires an increase in production of lamps.

ANOTHER manufacturing group is being added to the 11 now working on two shifts at the plant. The two shifts are from 7 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. to midnight.

Prior to last May 3 about 750 persons were working at the local plant on three shifts. On May 6 a total of 44 women and 15 men were laid off. Piecemeal lay-offs added another 30 to the idle list.

With the recent call backs and the one set for Monday more than a third of the total out of work will be back on the job.

The $2,500,000 local plant expansion program is moving along at a fast pace, Grigg also noted. It is about one-third completed. Most of the steel structure is up. Completion date is set for February 1959, Grigg declared.

Work is far enough along now that lamps will be shipped from a new indoor rail siding within the next two weeks, he explained.

Paving Job Starts Today

Project Prohibits
Main St. Parking

According to the Cincinnati Service Department, there will be no parking on Main St. from the Norfolk and Western Railroad to Mingo St. while the street is being resurfaced.

Preliminary work on the pavement job got under way today. Service Director Carl Radcliff said it would take about 10 days to finish the job.

Radcliff said traffic will be maintained, but urged local motorists not park during this period. Today's work called for a primer coat of tar which will be covered with sand. Actual repaving is scheduled to start tomorrow morning.

THE job is being handled by the Blue Rock Construction Co., Washington, D. C. Company officials said approximately 40 trucks will be utilized to haul hot mix here from a plant in Fayette County.

Cost of the job is estimated in excess of $30,000. Cincinnati's share of the cost will be about $10,000, with the state and federal government paying the remainder.

Plans for the project noted that 27 manholes on Main St. must be raised prior to resurfacing. City employees were completing this task today.

At Age 12, She Decides To Stay Single

SEVIERVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Frieda Ogle celebrated her 12th birthday today still single and vowing she doesn't want to marry just now, after all.

However, the Rev. George Washington Rollins, 33, still faced a preliminary hearing on a charge of kidnapping the mountain girl. It was filed by her father Earl Ogle Jr. after the Missionary Baptist preacher took her to Georgia in a vain attempt to get married.

"I thought I was in love with him but I definitely wouldn't do it again," the girl told her parents after her father brought her home from Atlanta. "I realize now I'm too young, and he is not the right man for me."

Frieda said neither she nor the preacher thought she was too young when they went away together.

"I thought I could make him a good wife," she said.

Rollins, father of five children, was divorced two months ago by his wife of 16 years. She charged nonsupport.

North Carolina Democratic Chairman Woodrow W. Jones said Butler "does not own the Democratic party and he does not determine who is going to stay in the party or who is going to leave the party."

Calls for Butler's removal from the party came from Rep. Kenneth A. Roberts (D-Ala.) and Frank Boykin (D-Ala.).

Southern Dems, Butler Feuding

Some in Dixie Call
For Chief To Resign

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some Southern Democrats were feuding today with their party's national chairman.

What aroused the ire of the Southerners was a statement Sunday by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler. He told interviewers Southern Democrats ought either to accept a strong civil rights plank in the 1960 Democratic platform or leave the party.

Several Dixie Democrats said Butler should leave the party. One called him a radical and another said he was pitching for "Northern radical votes" and special minority interests.

In Wheeling, W. Va., Butler appeared to soften his stand somewhat Monday night, saying, "We're certainly not going to read anybody out of the party."

"Inevitably there will be some people who will not go along with the party platform," he added. Butler said he did not think such a split would hurt the Democrats in the 1960 presidential campaign.

Democratic chief Butler and Southern Democrats have been on the outs at various times over the past few years. His Sunday jab at the Dixie faction had some of the Southerners seething.

North Carolina Democratic Chairman Woodrow W. Jones said Butler "does not own the Democratic party and he does not determine who is going to stay in the party or who is going to leave the party."

'Hate Mail' Under Study

Officials Seek Curb
On Public Disorders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government lawyers are studying the problem of what can be done about "hate mail" which leads to crimes or public disorders.

The study was touched off in part by the recent wave of bombings of Jewish centers. In the case of a bombing at Atlanta, letters were seized in connection with the arrests of five persons.

Herbert B. Warburton, the Post Office Department's general counsel today asked the Justice Department for a conference on the general problem.

Warburton said that "basically we are seeking a clarification" on what type of mailed communication could be classified as seditious, scurrilous, or tending to incite crime.

Since freedom of speech is constitutionally guaranteed in this country, legal authorities agree that anyone may express a prejudice on racial, religious, or other matters.

The delicate problem to be settled is a determination of the point where a mailed communication ceases to be simply an expression of personal views and becomes a call for violent action.

The postal laws prohibit the mailing of indecent or obscene material, or matter designed to promote a lottery. Warburton said the law also covers material intended to incite to crime and said this is the area in which the department now wants to take a clear position.

He said the control of such mailings is sharply limited because most of it is mailed first class in sealed envelopes which the post office may not open.

However, he said that in his view mailed incitements to crime or riots could be prosecuted after the fact on a complaint by the Justice Department.

Tippler Khrush Gives Warning To Red Drunks

LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, himself noted for his tippling at diplomatic receptions, has warned Russians the government is planning a crackdown on drunks and moonshiners.

"We must proclaim the sternest struggle against drunkenness and put an end to this evil," he told a group of farmers at the village of Malinova near Kursk last Friday. Moscow radio broadcast the speech today.

"Drunkenness is antisocial and profoundly alien to our order and times," he said. "One cannot shut one's eyes to the fact that in our society there still are drunkards, thieves and swindlers."

"Drunkenness saps man's health. The drunkard disfigures family life and damages society."

Khrushchev said the Soviet government is working out a bill to provide sterner action against drunkards and "those who contribute to drunkenness." One law will limit restaurant customers to one glass of vodka or other spirits.

"If there are people who like their five tots, they will have to go to five restaurants," Khrushchev told the farmers. "They will sober up as they go from one to the other."

Luttmer himself claimed his mynah was popular with most people.

"Everybody is very intrigued with him," he said. "They enjoy his conversation and his cuteness."

After a six-hour hearing the court ruled against the bird. Luttmer was fined 2 pounds ($5.60), ordered to pay 42 pounds ($117) court costs and told: "Muffle the mynah."

Fliers Hope Space Trip To Be Swift

DALLAS (AP) — A couple of experimental test pilots here hope one of them will ride a rocket out into space, whirl around the earth at 18,000 miles an hour and land again, all "in a couple of hours and be home in time for dinner."

The pilots, William Becker and Ralph Cokely, are here to study Chance-Vought's plans for pilot capsule and escape systems.

They work for Boeing Airplane Co., which is trying to gain final Air Force approval of a rocket-powered combination space craft aircraft and missile.

Chance-Vought is one of a seven-company team competing with a Martin team on the craft.

Becker and Cokely expect, if Boeing wins the contract, one of them will ride the rocket far out into space, glide a full turn around the earth, and land at the same base he used for takeoff.

The flight is planned for sometime before 1965 and both pilots will work nearly full time getting ready for the space venture.

"Even at that, it will be nip and tuck for us to get prepared for this thing," Cokely said.

They will undergo simulated space flights and centrifuge tests and make exploratory flights in advance supersonic aircraft.

"My family believes in anything I want to do," Cokely said in answer to a question. "If she had the chance, my wife said she would do it herself."

In Washington, the Air Force has plans to place a "specially trained small animal" into an orbit around the earth—but not until there's a good chance of bringing it back alive.

The animal would be in a space capsule equipped to radio back to earth information on the animal's performance and physiological condition.

The Russians got similar reports on the dog Laika, sent aloft in a Soviet Sputnik last year. No effort was made to return the dog to earth.

Brig. Gen. Donald D. Flickinger, Air Force director of life sciences, outlined that service's plans in the Air University Quarterly Review, published at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala.

He said the attempt would be made provided techniques for the recovery of the space capsule and its occupant are satisfactorily developed.

The Air Force expects to spend a record total of $305,888,000 operating the missile test center during the fiscal year 1959.

Officials announced that about 175 million dollars will be expended in Brevard County and central Florida and about $31,600,000 in other sections of the state.

The Air Force will have spent 515 million dollars on payrolls alone in Brevard County from 1950, when the Cape opened, to the end of fiscal year 1959, which began July 1.

Of the total for 1959, about $93,200,000 will be spent in sections of the United States other than Florida and another six million will be used outside the United States.

Secret O'Neill Talk Labeled As Bid for Role as 'Martyr'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Michael V. DiSalle said today that Gov. C. William O'Neill met secretly with proponents of the issue to regulate labor contracts and made suggestions on how to promote its success before he came out for it publicly.

DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, said he learned this from a transcript of an off-the-record speech O'Neill made before directors of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce in Columbus Sept. 30.

He declined to say how the transcript came into his hands.

At the Sept. 30 meeting, DiSalle said, O'Neill stated that "there are only two issues in this campaign. One of them is the right-to-work issue and the other is the implications of the loss of that issue in Ohio."

DiSalle said O'Neill also told the directors there are only two powerful arguments in passing the issue, corruption and intimidation, and advised that the proponents tie the symbol of Teamsters boss James Hoffa to the opposition.

Going over the background of O'Neill's public stand on the issue, DiSalle noted that on Aug. 31, the governor made a "general statement to the effect that corruption in labor should be eliminated." On Sept. 22 the governor said he would vote for it and on Oct. 2 the governor said he was going to make it a prime issue in the campaign.

At the Sept. 30 meeting, DiSalle said, O'Neill stated that "I've told Mr. Atkinson a number of times during the last 10 days that I was disturbed because nothing was being done to pass this (issue) since it was on the ballot."

Atkinson is Herschel Atkinson, the Chamber of Commerce's executive director.

Quemoy Shelling Is Stepped Up

Jet Fighter Planes
Tangle in Brief Duel

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles and President Chiang Kai-shek opened their conference today against a backdrop of renewed Red cannonading of Quemoy.

After a 2½-hour meeting between Dulles and Chiang, a State Department spokesman said that "Mr. Dulles is not here to twist anybody's arm or apply any heat or pressure."

The Defense Ministry, meantime, said Red guns from the mainland and adjacent islands stepped up the tempo of shelling this afternoon after lobbying over only a relatively few rounds this morning. The ministry said 3,313 shells hit Quemoy and its satellite islands, compared with more than 11,500 Monday.

The ministry said eight Nationalist Sabrejets and six Communist MIG-17 jets had tangled briefly over Formosa Strait but made no mention of damage to either side. It was the first appearance of the MIGs since the Communists ended the cease-fire.

But there was no doubt the abrupt Red decision to end the Communist-imposed cease-fire had an important bearing on the Dulles-Chiang discussions.

Joseph Greene, special assistant to Dulles, said Dulles' first conference with Chiang was "a stock-taking of the present situation." He said the political and military situation was being assessed along with Communist propaganda.

Greene took this tack on reports that the United States might bring pressure on Chiang to cut down the off-shore islands in the hope of obtaining a permanent cease-fire.

He said applying heat or pressure "would not be in tune with the relationship of mutual trust and confidence of the two countries as allies."

Vice President Chen Cheng, Chiang's right-hand man, declared that to cut the size of the garrisons or to pull out of the off-shore islands would "definitely lead to a large-scale war."

Chen told a rally in Taipei on Overseas Chinese Day he was not surprised that the Reds had broken the cease-fire because all Communist pledges are worthless. He said the United States fully understands the true nature of the Communists.

The Red action stiffened Nationalist opposition to any reduction of forces on the Quemoy islands. Dulles had indicated that Washington favored a reduction in hopes of a permanent Red cease-fire in return.

Dulles met with Chiang exactly 24 hours after the Communists broke their self-imposed cease-fire. It had lasted 15 days. After a heavy barrage Monday, shelling was reported light today.

The secretary of state arrived in mid-morning in a military jet tanker which flew the polar route from England. He said his talks with Chiang "are not aimed at reaching any new agreements."

"We hope, through re-examination, to consolidate a relationship of mutual trust and confidence which is of immense value to all the free world," he said.

The secretary had been expected to press for a smaller garrison on Quemoy, equipped with more powerful weapons, a garrison which the Reds could not consider an invasion threat but which would be sufficient to protect the offshore islands from a Communist landing. But he said during a stop in Alaska:

"It is obvious that if the Chinese Communists resume their fighting to achieve their political goals, our consultations cannot have the same scope and character that would have been possible if there were a cease-fire."

Ike Blasts Dems, Tries To Heal Republican Split

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower lambasted Democrats Monday night as political radicals and called for an end to Republican "family bickering" in the party drive to capture control of Congress.

The President flies north to San Francisco today for two more campaign addresses after making perhaps the hardest hitting speech of his political career to a cheering crowd of about 6,500 GOP workers in Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium.

In a peppery, fighting mood for the first time on this coast-to-coast tour, Eisenhower sailed into the Democrats as a party "hopelessly split right down the middle." He touched off a round of laughter in saying they have political schizophrenia, or split personality.

"The opposition record," said Eisenhower, "is one of ever higher taxes — of dollars worth 50 cents — of sky high prices — of an economy harassed into producing fewer jobs, chronic unemployment, labor strife and fear of the future."

The President said the record of the administration on the other hand is one that justifies support for Republican candidates from coast to coast — in the fields of foreign policy, defense, agriculture, and the nation's economy, and others.

Eisenhower was interrupted by applause 35 times at the party rally where nearly every seat in the auditorium was filled. The biggest round came when he said that under this administration: "Ladies and gentlemen, things are good, and getting better every day."

Eisenhower came to California mainly to boost the candidacy of U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland in the race for the governorship, and the bid of GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for Knowland's Senate seat — and to try to heal a party split.

The split is over Knowland moving into the gubernatorial contest after Knight had announced he intended to seek re-election, and Knowland's championship of a highly controversial "right to work proposal" which would bar the union shop in California.

Knight, running for an office he didn't want, is against the proposal and has said he may not vote for Knowland. Organized labor also is fighting Knowland on the "right to work proposal" and he currently faces the gloomy prospect of defeat by his Democratic opponent, State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

With Knowland and Knight side by side on the speakers' platform with him in an outward show of harmony, Eisenhower told his applauding audience: "Let's have no

Middleport-Logan Football Ruckus Faces State Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. reported today he will start an investigation immediately on charges that Middleport High School employed roughhouse tactics in a football game at Logan last Friday night.

H. W. Emswiler said he will ask school officials at Middleport for a full report on alleged incidents that almost touched off a riot.

Emswiler said football officials at the game advised him in a written report that "during the course of the game officials felt it necessary to disqualify seven Middleport players for infractions ranging from slugging to unsportsmanlike conduct."

The commissioner reported that he was advised serious consequences might have resulted had not Logan officials acted to keep the fans under control.

Logan walloped Middleport, 46-0, in a Southeastern Ohio League contest. It was the first loss for Middleport after five straight wins.

PROGRAM PAYS OFF — General Electric's "Operation Upturn" appears to be working locally. Today the plant announced that 67 workers, laid off last spring, will be back at work by Monday. Here, E. G. Grigg, plant manager, points proudly to a new sign in front of the local plant where a $2.5 million expansion program is about one-third completed.

GE Calls Back 67 Employees; Due Monday

Sales Outstrip Production Says Plant Manager

A total of 67 employees of the local General Electric plant either have been or will be recalled to work by next Monday.

This is more than a third of the approximately 180 laid off here in May and June. Current production of fluorescent lamps at the plant is not enough to meet the demand.

The announcement was made today by E. G. Grigg, manager of the Circleville Lamp plant. He said, "Excess stocks have been sold and another line will be put into production Monday."

Actually, 43, persons already have been recalled and another 24 will be on the job Monday morning. Both men and women have been called back, Grigg said, and others will be recalled as soon as they are needed.

Grigg pointed out that the recall is the result of a sales upturn, which, in turn, requires an increase in production of lamps.

ANOTHER manufacturing group is being added to the 11 now working on two tricks at the plant. The two shifts are from 7 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. to midnight.

Prior to last May 3 about 750 persons were working at the local plant on three shifts. On May 3 the company was forced to lay off 87 women employees, then on June 6 a total of 44 women and 15 men were laid off. Piece-meal lay-offs added another 30 to the idle list.

With the recent call backs and the one set for Monday more than a third of the total out of work will be back on the job.

The $2,500,000 local plant expansion program is moving along at a fast pace, Grigg also noted. It is about one-third completed. Most of the steel structure is up. Completion date is set for February 1959, Grigg declared.

Magistrate Muffles Mouthy Mynah

LONDON (AP) — A mynah who couldn't keep his mouth shut has been convicted of being a major nuisance.

The Magistrate's Court at near-by Kingston-on-Thames was told the talking bird made a noise like squealing brakes, sang "Pop Goes the Weasel" and other ditties and whistled at the girls.

In the respectable suburb of Esher, on London's southern fringe, that was too much for the neighbors.

The mynah, a type of starling, lived in an aviary with 21 other tropical birds at the bottom of potato merchant John Luttmner's garden.

The bird was not brought to court, but to the stand came neighbors to imitate its cries.

Middle-aged John Puddy—a bird lover all his life—described the mynah call as "Ou, ow, ow," decidedly raucous.

Mrs. Doreen Corderoy thought it went "Ack, ack, ack." The bird

Officials Seek Curb On Public Disorders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government lawyers are studying the problem of what can be done about "hate mail" which leads to crimes or public disorders.

The Air Force will have spent 515 million dollars on payrolls alone in Brevard County from 1950, when the Cape opened, to the end of fiscal year 1959, which began July 1.

Of the total for 1959, about $93,200,000 will be spent in sections of the United States other than Florida and another six million will be used outside the United States.

Secret O'Neill Talk Labeled As Bid for Role as 'Martyr'

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Michael V. DiSalle said today that Gov. C. William O'Neill met secretly with proponents of the issue to regulate labor contracts and made suggestions on how to promote its success before he came out for it publicly.

DiSalle, Democratic nominee for governor, said he learned this from a transcript of an off-the-record speech O'Neill made before directors of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce in Columbus Sept. 30.

He declined to say how the transcript came into his hands.

At the Sept. 30 meeting, DiSalle said, O'Neill stated that "there are only two issues in this campaign. One of them is the right-to-work issue and the other is the implications of the loss of that issue in Ohio."

DiSalle said O'Neill also told the directors there are only two powerful arguments in passing the issue, corruption and intimidation, and advised that the proponents tie the symbol of Teamsters boss James Hoffa to the opposition.

Going over the background of O'Neill's public stand on the issue, DiSalle noted that on Aug. 31 the governor made a "general statement to the effect that corruption in labor should be eliminated." On Sept. 22 the governor said he would vote for it and on Oct. 2 the governor said he was going to make it a prime issue in the campaign.

At the Sept. 30 meeting, DiSalle said, O'Neill stated that "I've told Mr. Atkinson a number of times during the last 10 days that I was disturbed because nothing was being done to pass this (issue) since it was on the ballot."

Atkinson is Herschel Atkinson, the Chamber of Commerce's executive director.

DiSalle said another part of O'Neill's talk to the Chamber directors indicated disappointment that his stand on the issue had not made him a labor martyr in the manner of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Quoting from the transcript: "You'll note that I came out for this. I was not attacked by the labor leaders. They endorsed my opponent, but there was none of the bitter attacks that were made on Sen. Taft. . . . They're just smarter than they were when they made a martyr out of their opponent."

DiSalle said that from his own statement, "it is evident that O'Neill had hoped to draw the personal attack by labor leaders, hoping that this would make a Sen. Taft out of him."

French Stand May Hamper Nuclear Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —France's blunt warning that she will not feel bound by any U.S.-British-Soviet agreement to suspend nuclear weapon tests aroused fears today for the chances of the Geneva arms talks opening Oct. 31.

Diplomats wondered whether the Soviet Union — which was quick to blast the French position — might use it as an excuse to refuse agreement and continue her own tests.

French disarmament expert Jules Moch caused a stir in the U.N.'s 81-nation Political Committee Monday by serving notice that any agreement reached at Geneva would be "drawn up without the participation of France and not applying to her."

France's government has been pressing to develop its own atomic bomb so that France can join the nuclear-weapon club.

Quemoy Shelling Is Stepped Up

Jet Fighter Planes Tangle in Brief Duel

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles and President Chiang Kai-shek opened their conference today against a backdrop of renewed Red cannonading of Quemoy.

After a 2½-hour meeting between Dulles and Chiang, a State Department spokesman said that "Mr. Dulles is not here to twist anybody's arm or apply any heat or pressure."

The Defense Ministry, meantime, said Red guns from the mainland and adjacent islands stepped up the tempo of shelling this afternoon after lobbing over only a relatively few rounds this morning. The ministry said 3,313 shells hit Quemoy and its satellite islands, compared with more than 11,500 Monday.

The ministry said eight Nationalist Sabrejets and six Communist MIG-17 jets had tangled briefly over Formosa Strait but made no mention of damage to either side. It was the first appearance of the MIGs since the Communists ended the cease-fire.

But there was no doubt the abrupt Red decision to end the Communist-imposed cease-fire had an important bearing on the Dulles-Chiang discussions.

Joseph Greene, special assistant to Dulles, said Dulles' first conference with Chiang was "a stock-taking of the present situation." He said the political and military situation was being assessed along with Communist propaganda.

Greene took this tack on reports that the United States might bring pressure on Chiang to cut down the off-shore islands in the hope of obtaining a permanent cease-fire.

He said applying heat or pressure "would not be in tune with the relationship of mutual trust and confidence of the two countries as allies."

Vice President Chen Cheng, Chiang's right-hand man, declared that to cut the size of the garrisons or to pull out of the off-shore islands would "definitely lead to a large-scale war."

Chen told a rally in Taipei on Overseas Chinese Day he was not surprised that the Reds had broken the cease-fire because all Communist pledges are worthless. He said the United States fully understands the true nature of the Communists.

The Red action stiffened Nationalist opposition to any reduction of forces on the Quemoy islands. Dulles had indicated that Washington favored a reduction in hopes of a permanent Red cease-fire in return.

Dulles met with Chiang exactly 24 hours after the Communists broke their self-imposed cease-fire. It had lasted 15 days. After a heavy barrage Monday, shelling was reported light today.

The secretary of state arrived in midmorning in a military jet tanker which flew the polar route from England. He said his talks with Chiang "are not aimed at reaching any new agreements."

"We hope, through re-examination, to consolidate a relationship of mutual trust and confidence which is of immense value to all the free world," he said.

The secretary had been expected to press for a smaller garrison on Quemoy, equipped with more powerful weapons, a garrison which the Reds could not consider an invasion threat but which would be sufficient to protect the offshore islands from a Communist landing. But he said during a stop in Alaska:

"It is obvious that if the Chinese Communists resume their fighting to achieve their political goals, our consultations cannot have the same scope and character that would have been possible if there were a cease-fire."

Ike Blasts Dems, Tries To Heal Republican Split

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower lambasted Democrats Monday night as political radicals and called for an end to Republican "family bickering" in the party drive to capture control of Congress.

The President flies north to San Francisco today for two more campaign addresses after making perhaps the hardest hitting speech of his political career to a cheering crowd of about 6,500 GOP workers in Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium.

In a peppery, fighting mood for the first time on this coast-to-coast tour, Eisenhower sailed into the Democrats as a party "hopelessly split right down the middle." He touched off a round of laughter in saying they have political schizophrenia, or split personality.

"The opposition record," said Eisenhower, "is one of ever higher taxes — of dollars worth 50 cents — of sky high prices — of an economy harassed into producing fewer jobs, chronic unemployment, labor strife and fear of the future."

The President said the record of the administration on the other hand is one that justifies support for Republican candidates from coast to coast — in the fields of foreign policy, defense, agriculture, and the nation's economy, and others.

Eisenhower was interrupted by applause 35 times at the party rally where nearly every seat in the auditorium was filled. The biggest round came when he said that under this administration: "Ladies and gentlemen, things are good, and getting better every day."

Eisenhower came to California mainly to boost the candidacy of U.S. Sen. William F. Knowland in the race for the governorship, and the bid of GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight for Knowland's Senate seat — and to try to heal a party split.

The split is over Knowland moving into the gubernatorial contest after Knight had announced he intended to seek re-election, and Knowland's championship of a highly controversial "right to work proposal" which would bar the union shop in California.

Knight, running for an office he didn't want, is against the proposal and has said he may not vote for Knowland. Organized labor also is fighting Knowland on the "right to work proposal" and he currently faces the gloomy prospect of defeat by his Democratic opponent, State Atty. Gen. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown.

With Knowland and Knight side by side on the speakers' platform with him in an outward show of harmony, Eisenhower told his applauding audience: "Let's have no more family bickering — fancied or real. It just helps defeat what we want."

Knowland and Knight joined the prolonged applause.

A bit later the President said the Republicans "have had our family spats." But he went on to say at that point that the Democrats are worse off — that they are hopelessly split.

"At one extreme is a wing whose campaigns were largely settled in Southern primaries held weeks ago," Eisenhower said. "At the other extreme is the stronger wing, dominated by political radicals. . . ."

"These self-styled liberals are the ones who really challenge sane, sound, forward-looking government in the United States. It is against the spread of their radical influence that we are waging this campaign."

Eisenhower picked Vice President Nixon's home state to say this about him in his prepared text: "If only all of us go full out, as our fine vice president, Dick Nixon, has — we, together, will achieve victory."

But in making the speech the President deleted that sentence and said instead that Nixon is "one of our most effective leaders in this great fight" to win control of Congress from the Democrats in the November elections. Eisenhower added: "He is giving us a shining example of dedication to the cause of good government."

In reply to questions, White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said the President revised his remarks about Nixon "because he wanted to make them stronger."

To some the original version seemed to add up to a warm endorsement of Nixon's campaign technique, often sharply criticized by the Democrats. The revised Eisenhower version was keyed less specifically to praise of Nixon going "full out" in his campaigning.

Middleport-Logan Football Ruckus Faces State Probe

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic Assn. reported today he will start an investigation immediately on charges that Middleport High School employed roughhouse tactics in a football game at Logan last Friday night.

H. W. Emswiler said he will ask school officials at Middleport for a full report on alleged incidents that almost touched off a riot.

Emswiler said football officials at the game advised him in a written report that "during the course of the game officials felt it necessary to disqualify seven Middleport players for infractions ranging from slugging to unsportsmanlike conduct."

The commissioner reported that he was advised serious consequences might have resulted had not Logan officials acted to keep the fans under control.

Logan walloped Middleport, 46-0, in a Southeastern Ohio League contest. It was the first loss for Middleport after five straight wins.

Who's at Fault For Higher Living Cost?

Businessmen, Labor Waxing Hot in Debate On Who Gets Blame

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst NEW YORK (AP)—The question of who's to blame for the high cost of living is being debated with more heat today.

Businessmen are bringing up the ticklish matter of what they term labor's responsibility for, and indifference to, inflation.

Labor is just as loud in denunciation of business pricing practices.

Part of the urgency of the debate today is the growing belief that living costs will rise even higher some months from now as inflationary psychology spreads from Wall Street to main street.

A group of leading industrialists have placed before the Commerce Department's 80-man Business Advisory Council, meeting in Hot Springs, Va., the charge against labor.

The council's Labor Policy Committee says that "compulsory membership yields a monopoly of the labor market and is the source of the economic power of union officials."

It fears that labor's political power may lead the next Congress to follow union officials' "ideologies and proposals which result in inflation, concentration of power in central government, damage to progress and withering of freedom."

Increased wages negotiated this year are boosting the costs of doing business, the industrialists hold, and making further price hikes likely.

Another group, studying U. S. monetary policies at a meeting of the American assembly at Arden House, also has taken a stab at placing the blame for the rise in the cost of living in the last two years.

It said that both business and labor share in the blame, and did nothing to halt inflation, but helped instead to spread it through their complacency.

In their final report the 60 representatives of business, finance, government and education asserted that monetary policy alone couldn't ward off the growing threat of further inflation.

The report asked: "Does upward push on prices by powerful labor unions, big business, and subsidized agriculture cause the price level to rise even in the face of unemployment? Does emphasis on full employment and rapid economic growth require acceptance of creeping inflation?"

Some of the participants thought they saw increasing evidence that business and union leaders are attaining greater understanding of their basic interest in a sound dollar.

Others could see no such signs at all. And the final report contented itself with the pious hope that business and union leaders would see the necessity for working toward price stability.

The declaration is binding on none of the participants.

Most of the 60 participants agreed that further inflation is so far mostly in the minds of stock traders, but fear of its spreading was shared by all.

Reason Sought as Crazy Cop Kills 4 Men in Gotham Cafe

NEW YORK (AP)—What deadly impulse drove policeman James McDermott to the cold-blooded slaughter of four men in a Broadway restaurant?

Did injuries he suffered last year in a car accident twist his mind with destructive urges? Did he bear a grudge against the victims? One was a convicted loan shark and two of the others also had police records.

Had he been drinking? Police investigated these angles today to try to uncover some explanation for the 34-year-old patrolman's violent outburst Sunday in the Pica-Rib Restaurant.

McDermott himself could not supply the answers immediately. He lay speechless in critical condition on a hospital bed. His body was riddled with five bullet wounds inflicted by other policemen, who waged a spectacular gun duel with him on midtown streets as he fled.

Two of the capturing policemen were from McDermott's home precinct.

McDermott, married and the father of four, was off duty when he entered the restaurant on Broadway near 53rd Street about 1:45 a. m. A few minutes later, without warning, he drew two guns and blazed away at helpless patrons. Four men fell mortally wounded.

McDermott crashed through the glass paneling of a door and fled. Pursuing policemen opened fire, hitting him five times. He returned the fire, wounding one of the pursuers, before he collapsed, unconscious, about three blocks from the restaurant.

McDermott had a clean record, including one commendation, during his 10 years on the force. Neighbors described him as a conscientious father and churchgoer. Fellow policemen recalled he was a "nice, pleasant guy."

Officials said McDermott had been under medical treatment since December 1957, when he was injured in the collision of a radio car with a truck. Two weeks ago, he underwent X-ray examinations after complaining of persistent headaches.

His four victims all died in hospitals. They were: Edmund Leahy, 53, of Manhattan, a stay-at-home who recently served a prison sentence for loan sharking. His record also shows fines for gambling and bookmaking convictions.

Thomas Joseph O'Hare, 55, of Manhattan, an usher at Madison Square Garden, once arrested for alleged burglary but released with the charge dismissed.

Lawrence Davion, Mount Vernon, N. Y., known as "Larry the Barber," who carried papers listing two other names—Larry Jenkins and Frank Anderson. Davion's police record, dating from 1933, includes a jail term for altering identification marks on an automobile, a bookmaking fine and two other arrests.

Auto Skids Fifth of Mile On Its Top

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Two Springfield men walked away uninjured after their car rolled over and slid on its top for a fifth of a mile near London early yesterday.

Franklin County sheriff's deputies said the accident ended a 50-mile chase at speeds up to 120 m.p.h.

Officers arrested the driver, Fred Beaver, 25, and charged him with speeding, reckless operation, running a red light and driving with a revoked license. He is being held in county jail here.

A passenger, Homer Ellis, 23, was released. Deputies said he was "so scared he couldn't talk."

Deputies said Beaver apparently became panicky when he saw a patrol car because his license was invalid.

Beaver sped north on Harrisburg Pike, pulling away from Deputy Sheriff James Clark, who pushed his cruiser to 100 m.p.h., officers said.

The car went out of control on Ohio 38 just south of London. It was demolished.

Polio Shots To Be Urged During Winter

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new winter campaign aimed at revitalizing the polio vaccination program was announced today by Secretary of Welfare Flemming.

Flemming told a news conference 53 per cent of the population under 40 has not had the basic three polio vaccine injections and over a third has had no vaccine at all.

He called attention to public health service statistics showing

1,815 cases of paralytic polio during the first nine months of this year, 238 more than in the same period for 1957.

But he said the paralytic increase is no reflection on the efficacy of the vaccine. There is no evidence that properly vaccinated persons are losing their immunity, he added.

It is very disturbing, Flemming said, that in the six states most seriously hit this year—Michigan,

New Jersey, Texas, West Virginia, Virginia, and California—the majority of paralytic cases, or 416 out of 781, were among children under 5.

WHY ARE LABOR BOSSES SO AFRAID OF RIGHT TO WORK?

They're afraid that Right to Work will force them to justify their activities to the rank and file. Afraid that Right to Work will put an end to their taking a free ride at the expense of the union members.

They're afraid that Right to Work will put a curb on corruption, rigged elections, racketeering, hoodlumism, goon tactics, and personal and political use of members' dues and union funds without an accounting.

They're afraid that Right to Work will make it impossible for them to silence a member who asks too many embarrassing questions at union meetings—by forcing his employer to fire him.

They're afraid that under Right to Work their relatives and cronies may get tossed off the union payrolls.

They're afraid that Right to Work will make it possible for the captive membership of a corrupt or communistic union to walk out in a body and join an honest, patriotic union.

As union members, we especially salute the many, many thousands of union members—including unpaid committee men, committee women and officials—who, like ourselves, are fighting for the freedom of choice and against corruption and intimidation within unions.

Read the Amendment
Judge for Yourself!

This is free America . . .
Your Vote is Secret!

The Right to Work Amendment has one and only one purpose—to give wage earners Freedom of Choice to belong, or not belong, to a labor union.

"No employer or labor organization shall deny or abridge the right to work by requiring membership or non-membership in, or payment or non-payment of money to, a labor organization as a condition of employment or continued employment in this State. All agreements in conflict with this Section are, to the extent of such conflict, unlawful and of no effect in this State."

Union bosses are telling you they have ways to find out how you vote. This is intimidation in its most un-American form. Union bosses can never know how you vote on Right to Work.

Under Ohio law you vote alone in a closed booth • Your name does not appear on your ballot • There is no way to identify you • You do not write on your ballot—just mark X's • You fold your own ballot and drop it yourself into a locked and guarded box. If you vote by machine, there is no possibility of identification because your vote is recorded and counted mechanically.

U. S. Senator McClellan is asked:

"Can the Labor Racketeer be Stopped?"

Interview by Editor of U. S. News & World Report with Senator John L. McClellan, Chairman, Senate Investigating Committee, as published in issue of October 10, 1958.

- Q. Senator McClellan, what are the principal abuses that have been uncovered by your Committee?
- McC. One of the most important, I think, to union members is the misuse of their funds. The members are being exploited in many instances by union officials.
- Q. How do they do that?
- McC. By simply taking the money. They write checks to cash. There's no accounting for the money, no voucher for it.
- Q. What do they usually do with it?
- McC. Many times, I'm sure it's used in political campaigns. Many times the money is pocketed.
- Q. How do those hoodlums get into the unions?
- McC. Many of them are not elected. Many are appointed.
- Q. Does labor union organization need to resort to these methods to be effective?
- McC. In my opinion, no. I think the wholesomeness of unionism depends upon the free will of the people. I don't agree with compulsory unionism. I think that's wrong in principle.
- Q. The public is puzzled about why the rank and file don't rise up in indignation. Can you answer that?
- McC. I can't—except they are afraid.
- Q. Do you see any hope of the rank and file throwing Hoffa out of the union?
- McC. It is doubtful. They really have no control. In a union such as Hoffa runs, when you go to a meeting and try to make a protest . . . somebody is there to smash your head in or threaten your family.
- Q. Are you for or against Right to Work laws?
- McC. I believe a State should have the right to enact those laws. We have a Right to Work law in my State and I support it.

New French System Like Ours

Decision of the De Gaulle regime in France to have members of the National Assembly (parliament elected on a "congressional" basis instead of a "party list" system is very significant.

In the recent past, French voters have cast their votes for their favorite party among the many existing. Then, through the proportional representation system (which gives weight to second and third preferences by voters), the ballots are counted. This has allowed the small, "splinter" parties to wield strength in the assembly — and thereby has encouraged their growth.

The new system will be like that in the United States. Voters will cast ballots for an individual. The candidate getting the most votes in each district then will go to the assembly. This encourages the coalition and eventual combination of parties to elect a candidate.

In theory the old system looked attractive. It distributes representation according to different shades of opinion among voters on different issues. However, in practice it creates so many divisions of opinion that a consensus in the assembly is difficult to achieve.

The President will be chosen by an electoral college. This is not quite like the 531-member body in the U. S. which chooses a President, for the French unit may have 100,000 members. But the principle is the same.

Landmark Moment for Daddy-o

By Hal Boyle

ABOARD THE S.S. BRASIL AT SEA (AP)—It is nice for every good girl to learn three things early in life.

They are: how to play the piano, how to sit down gracefully without showing her knees, and how to swim.

Two of these ladylike accomplishments are presently impossible for our daughter, Tracy Ann. At the age of five she is all knees, and she beats a piano as if it were a drum.

But she has achieved the third feat. She has learned to swim, and in our family this now ranks as the greatest victory at sea since Trafalgar.

At first I was dubious about taking Tracy on this maiden voyage of the new Mooremack liner Brasil to South America.

"She'll miss nearly three full weeks of kindergarten," I objected to my wife. "Getting off to a good start in kindergarten is highly important."

"Well," replied Frances, a bit acidly, "I think with luck she'll be able to overcome the handicap by the time she enters college."

We finally made a compromise. Tracy could come along if she agreed faithfully each day to keep up with her kindergarten home work—paper scissoring and water coloring. You can't afford to fall behind in these vital subjects. If you don't learn to cut out paper dolls in kindergarten, you'll never learn it at Radcliff.

A modern ship at sea is a wonderful and exciting world to a child. Because she is merry and friendly, people like to spoil Tracy. She quickly became an unofficial crew mascot.

One night at dinner she gravely confided to staff Capt. Robert H. Bradwell: "My five best friends are all captains. There's you, and Johnny and three others."

Investigation disclosed Johnny and the other three "captains" were all bellboys. To Tracy there was no distinction. She still ranks people by the way they smile rather than by the gold braid they wear.

From the first day she took to the children's swimming pool like a porpoise, and her nose sprouted a new freckle an hour under the hot southern sun as she struggled valiantly to swim.

She was absolutely heedless of the danger of drowning, but the pool guard said: "The less afraid they are of the water, the quicker they start swimming."

One afternoon she simply pushed away from the pool wall and set off for the other side, her small paws flailing the water like those of a skinned poodle.

She made the other side and turned — a woman flushed with the exultation of a major triumph — and immediately swam back.

She swallowed less than half the contents of the pool on the way. Watching from an upper deck, I didn't know whether to laugh or cry. It was a landmark moment for daddy-o, too.

The next day she entered a swimming race for beginners and won over a 10-year-old opponent. "That wasn't easy," she said later, still breathless. "Ten-year-old girls have awful long arms."

Now every day she insists that her mother and I enter the water, too, and take swimming lessons from her. It does no good for me to point out I've been swimming for more than 30 years and, bad as I am, probably won't ever get much better.

"Just watch me and do like I do," says Tracy confidently. "If you're going to learn to do something, you might as well learn how to do it really right."

Curbs for Arthritis

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.
Rheumatoid arthritis is a most crippling form of arthritis. Yet in many, many cases, this crippling can be prevented or at least alleviated by proper physical treatment right in the patient's own home.

It has been estimated that a large number of those who have rheumatoid arthritis right now are doing little or nothing to keep the affected joints functioning.

Most physicians emphasize the importance of proper home care and therapy. Experience shows, however, that while many patients begin such treatments with apparent good intentions, most usually stop them after two to four months.

Therapeutic exercise, heat and massage and physical treatments which really help to ease pain, keep the muscles and joints active and keep deformity to a minimum. Of course such treatment should be combined with medical care and general good health measures.

Plenty of rest, for example, is essential for anyone suffering rheumatoid arthritis.

Usually about 10 to 12 hours of bed rest per day is prescribed by physicians, although if the pain is severe, a constant stay in bed may be recommended. Resting the joints, you see, often permits the inflammation to subside.

Unfortunately, some physicians, while advising home therapy, fail to follow through and instruct their patients in the proper procedure.

To make it a little easier for those of you who do want to apply such measures, I'd like to list a few of them here. But I want to emphasize that you should check with your own physician before using any of the following methods.

Heat is very valuable in treating rheumatoid arthritis. In addition to its soothing and vasodilating effects, it also helps relax the muscles.

There are numerous ways to apply heat. Here are a couple of the easiest:

For general heating, fill a tub with water between 100 and 104 degrees, Fahrenheit. Every day, or every other day, the patient can sit in this hot water for 15 minutes to half an hour. This method is not recommended for the weak, feeble or elderly.

Infra-red lamps can be used for applying heat to a single joint. Generally, they can be used for half an hour once or twice a day.

Question and Answer
R.A.C. My child is frequently bothered with sties. What would you advise?

A. Sties are due to infection of the hair follicles of the eyelids.

Children who are constantly bothered with sties should be under the care of a physician, as these are sometimes due to vision difficulties.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Red Chinese saw a good chance to put the heat on, and took it.

That seems a reasonable guess—since nobody knows for sure—why the Communists suddenly broke their own self-imposed cease-fire in the Formosa Strait and resumed shelling Quemoy.

They began the shelling last August, quit for a week 15 days ago, extended the cease-fire to next weekend and suddenly cut loose again Monday.

Secretary of State Dulles and his associates had decided that the Reds, after observing their own cease-fire for two weeks, would make it permanent. What the Reds did Monday shattered any complacency Dulles had on this score.

It was the Reds' way of thumbing their nose at him.

There's no doubt it was meant to embarrass him before he could land on Formosa to talk with Chiang Kai-shek about the future of Quemoy. The Communists were plainly saying they were the ones who'd call the shots.

But this other interpretation—showing a little more long-range thinking on the Reds' part—can also be placed on their sudden action:

To put pressure on Dulles—just in case he had the idea they had initiated the cease-fire out of weakness—to make more concessions than he might have thought necessary if he were taking a permanent cease-fire for granted now.

It could have been meant to push him harder into pressuring Chiang into cutting down Nationalist forces on the Quemoy and Matsu islands, both near the China coast, and eventually perhaps into abandoning them to the Communists if a cease-fire becomes permanent.

The Communists may have had American politics in mind as an added inducement to Dulles to make concessions to obtain a cease-fire and prevent the possibility of war.

At this moment President Eisenhower, campaigning for Republicans in the November elections, is claiming with pride that his administration has managed to preserve peace.

Any fierce action around Quemoy between now and election day would make peace look precarious.

But if the reasons for the Communist shelling of Quemoy, both original and resumed, are not clear, neither are Dulles' reasons for going halfway around the world to see Chiang.

There have been guesses on that, too: that he wants to assure Chiang of continued American support, at least in the defense of Formosa; that perhaps he wants to persuade Chiang to cut down his forces on Quemoy and maybe later abandon them.

There have been plenty of pressures on Dulles and Eisenhower to work out a solution for Quemoy without getting into war with Red China and possibly with the Soviet Union.

Both men had been adamant in their determination not to yield an inch to the Reds under threat of force. They said it was a matter of principle not to do so.

But they found they had a lot less than 100 per cent support at home or among American allies abroad for their determination to defend a couple of small islands which could hardly be claimed as essential to the defense of Formosa itself.

The Communist cease-fire, even on a temporary basis, came as a welcome relief.

The Reds may do themselves some damage in world opinion by resuming the shelling. They had stopped the shooting for humanitarian reasons, they said, to let the people and troops on Quemoy get supplies from Formosa.

They put on one condition: that American warships wouldn't escort the supply ships. Monday they gave as their reason for resuming the shelling the claim—denied by this country—that American ships again were escorting. The Reds left this up to the world to believe or not.

Empire without Military Force

By George Sokolsky

Vice President Nixon once wrote:

"...The significant thing about the Communist empire did not expand by traditional methods of overt military aggression, but by revolution in the Soviet Union, civil war and revolution in China, a coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia. It is true that military power in many instances was an essential ingredient for the expansion of the Communist empire through non-military means. But it is also true that the Communists did not resort successfully to overt military aggression in the traditional way in which empires in the past have been built."

It is so important, in any attempt to understand the age in which we live, to realize that the Soviet Universal State never employs orthodox means to accomplish usual purposes. That is what confuses so many. For instance, there are those in banking and industry who say: "Why not deal freely with Soviet Russia? Why not deal with Red China? There's money in that!"

Unfortunately, trade with either country involves political considerations. The British had a theory, when they quickly recognized Red China, that their enormous trade in China would be restored to them. It has not been restored. Although they have earned some profits in Hongkong, they have had a very tough time of it in Shanghai, Hankow and any interior city. Most of their business in such places has been taken from them. The great advantage of early recognition of the Red Chinese government has not been demonstrated.

India has discovered how perilous friendship with Red China is and most Indians are frightened by the consequences of their country having acted almost as an agent for Red China in the United Nations through Krishna Menon. The fact of the matter is that while Menon has been speaking for Soviet Russia in the United Nations, the Communists established a base in India, in Kerala, a province containing a high percentage of unemployed intellectuals. From this base, they are imperiling the Congress Party and the position of Nehru.

This is not an unusual Communist tactic and is often overlooked or even denied by non-Communists who fail to grasp that the ethics, morals, etiquettes of the two systems of life are different and contradictory. What seems terribly wrong to us is apparently right to them.

The businessman often believes that raising the standard of living of a people will drive off the Communist menace. Clarence B. Randall once put it this way:

"...Standards of living are frightful in some of these (underdeveloped) countries, as low as one hundred dollars per year per capita. If a country has only one hundred dollars per capita, double that and you have a terrific change in the buying power. The generations that are to follow, our grandchildren, will not hold us blameless if we permit these vast resources and these vast markets to come under the Soviet sway."

There is truth in his statement of the appalling standard of living in many of these countries, but that does not explain why in every country, the Communist Party does not emerge from the masses but from the middle class and the intellectuals. In not one single instance did a Communist success develop out of a labor union movement. This is not a proletarian movement, although Karl Marx said it would be, but then he, himself, was strictly middle class, his associate Engels was a rich manufacturer and his wife was of the German aristocracy. A high standard of living does not save the world from anything, not even the excesses of a high standard of living.

More and more errors are going to be made in our judgments about the Soviet Universal State as our bankers and industrialists grow more desperate for new markets. They see great areas on the map which remain closed to them and they want them opened up. But they will not be opened up. If Mao Tse-tung were elected President of the Security Council of the United Nations, those areas would not be realistically opened to foreign trade and foreigners because that is not the purpose of this revolution and they do not need what we say we can offer them. What they do need, they can now obtain within the Soviet Universal State which is an economic as well as a political unit based upon a Marxist concept of non-capitalist economics.

New French System Like Ours

Decision of the De Gaulle regime in France to have members of the National Assembly (parliament elected on a "congressional" basis instead of a "party list" system is very significant.

In the recent past, French voters have cast their votes for their favorite party among the many existing. Then, through the proportional representation system (which gives weight to second and third preferences by voters), the ballots are counted. This has allowed the small, "splinter" parties to wield strength in the assembly — and thereby has encouraged their growth.

The new system will be like that in the United States. Voters will cast ballots for an individual. The candidate getting the most votes in each district then will go to the assembly. This encourages the coalition and eventual combination of parties to elect a candidate.

In theory the old system looked attractive. It distributes representation according to different shades of opinion among voters on different issues. However, in practice it creates so many divisions of opinion that a consensus in the assembly is difficult to achieve.

The President will be chosen by an electoral college. This is not quite like the 531-member body in the U. S. which chooses a President, for the French unit may have 100,000 members. But the principle is the same.

Landmark Moment for Daddy-o

By Hal Boyle

ABOARD THE S.S. BRASIL AT SEA (AP)—It is nice for every good girl to learn three things early in life.

They are: how to play the piano, how to sit down gracefully without showing her knees, and how to swim.

Two of these ladylike accomplishments are presently impossible for our daughter, Tracy Ann. At the age of five she is all knees, and she beats a piano as if it were a drum.

But she has achieved the third feat. She has learned to swim, and in our family this now ranks as the greatest victory at sea since Trafalgar.

At first I was dubious about taking Tracy on this maiden voyage of the new Moorebank liner Brasil to South America.

"She'll miss nearly three full weeks of kindergarten," I objected to my wife. "Getting off to a good start in kindergarten is highly important."

"Well," replied Frances, a bit acidly, "I think with luck she'll be able to overcome the handicap by the time she enters college."

"We finally made a compromise, Tracy could come along if she agreed faithfully each day to keep up with her kindergarten home work—paper scissoring and water coloring. You can't afford to fall behind in these vital subjects. If you don't learn to cut out paper dolls in kindergarten, you'll never learn it at Radcliff.

A modern ship at sea is a wonderful and exciting world to a child. Because she is merry and friendly, people like to spoil Tracy. She quickly became an unofficial crew mascot.

One night at dinner she gravely confided to staff Capt. Robert H. Bradless: "My five best friends are all captains. There's you, and Johnny and three others."

Investigation disclosed Johnny and the other three "captains" were all bellboys. To Tracy there was no distinction. She still ranks people by the way they smile rather than by the gold braid they wear.

From the first day she took to the children's swimming pool like a porpoise, and her nose sprouted a new freckle an hour under the hot southern sun as she struggled valiantly to swim.

She was absolutely heedless of the danger of drowning, but the pool guard said: "The less afraid they are of the water, the quicker they start swimming."

Empire without Military Force

By George Sokolsky

Vice President Nixon once wrote:

"...The significant thing about the Communist empire did not expand by traditional methods of overt military aggression, but by revolution in the Soviet Union, civil war and revolution in China, a coup d'etat in Czechoslovakia. It is true that military power in many instances was an essential ingredient for the expansion of the Communist empire through non-military means. But it is also true that the Communists did not resort successfully to overt military aggression in the traditional way in which empires in the past have been built."

It is so important, in any attempt to understand the age in which we live, to realize that the Soviet Universal State never employs orthodox means to accomplish usual purposes. ## Curbs for Arthritis

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Rheumatoid arthritis is a most crippling form of arthritis. Yet in many, many cases, this crippling could be prevented or at least alleviated by proper physical treatment right in the patient's own home.

It has been estimated that a large number of those who have rheumatoid arthritis right now are doing little or nothing to keep the affected joints functioning.

Most physicians emphasize the importance of proper home care and therapy. Experience shows, however, that while many patients begin such treatments with apparent good intentions, most usually stop them after two to four months.

Therapeutic exercise, heat and massage and physical treatments which really help to ease pain, keep the muscles and joints active and keep deformity to a minimum.

Of course such treatment should be combined with medical care and general good health measures. Plenty of rest, for example, is essential for anyone suffering rheumatoid arthritis.

Usually about 10 to 12 hours of bed rest per day is prescribed by physicians, although if the pain is severe, a constant stay in bed may be recommended. Resting the joints, you see, often permits the inflammation to subside.

Unfortunately, some physicians, while advising home therapy, fail to follow through and instruct their patients in the proper procedure.

To make it a little easier for those of you who do want to apply, such measures, I'd like to list a few of them here. But I want to emphasize that you should check with your own physician before using any of the following methods.

Heat is very valuable in treating rheumatoid arthritis. In addition to its soothing and vasodilating effects, it also helps relax the muscles.

There are numerous ways to apply heat. Here are a couple of the easiest:

For general heating, fill a tub with water between 100 and 104 degrees, Fahrenheit. Every day, or every other day, the patient can sit in this hot water for 15 minutes to half an hour. This method is not recommended for the weak, feeble or elderly.

Infra-red lamps can be used for applying heat to a single joint. Generally, they can be used for half an hour once or twice a day.

Question and Answer

R.A.C. My child is frequently bothered with sties. What would you advise?

A. Sties are due to infection of the hair follicles of the eyelids.

Children who are constantly bothered with sties should be under the care of a physician, as these are sometimes due to vision difficulties.

LODI, Ohio (AP)—Eleven cars of a Nickel Plate Railroad freight train were derailed near the Ohio 76 crossing Sunday. Railroad officials said damage was slight and no injuries were reported. The derailment occurred with a U-shaped drawbar under one of the cars fell on the track.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Red Chinese saw a good chance to put the heat on, and took it.

That seems a reasonable guess—since nobody knows for sure—why the Communists suddenly broke their own self-imposed cease-fire in the Formosa Strait and resumed shelling Quemoy.

They began the shelling last August, quit for a week 15 days ago, extended the cease-fire to next weekend and suddenly cut loose again Monday.

Secretary of State Dulles and his associates had decided that the Reds, after observing their own cease-fire for two weeks, would make it permanent. What the Reds did Monday shattered any complacency Dulles had on this score.

It was the Reds' way of thumbing their nose at him.

There's no doubt it was meant to embarrass him before he could land on Formosa to talk with Chiang Kai-shek about the future of Quemoy. The Communists were plainly saying they were the ones who'd call the shots.

But this other interpretation—showing a little more long-range thinking on the Reds' part—can also be placed on their sudden action.

To put pressure on Dulles—just in case he had the idea they had initiated the cease-fire out of weakness—to make more concessions than he might have thought necessary if he were taking a permanent cease-fire for granted now.

It could have been meant to push him harder into pressuring Chiang into cutting down Nationalist forces on the Quemoy and Matsu islands, both near the China coast, and eventually perhaps into abandoning them to the Communists if a cease-fire becomes permanent.

The Communists may have had American politics in mind as an added inducement to Dulles to make concessions to obtain a cease-fire and prevent the possibility of war.

At this moment President Eisenhower, campaigning for Republicans in the November elections, is claiming with pride that his administration has managed to preserve peace.

Any fierce activity around Quemoy between now and election day would make peace look precarious.

But if the reasons for the Communist shellings of Quemoy, both original and resumed, are not clear, neither are Dulles' reasons for going halfway around the world to see Chiang.

There have been guesses on that, too: that he wants to assure Chiang of continued American support, at least in the defense of Formosa; that perhaps he wants to persuade Chiang to cut down his forces on Quemoy and maybe later abandon them.

There have been plenty of pressures on Dulles and Eisenhower to work out a solution for Quemoy without getting into war with Red China and possibly with the Soviet Union.

Both men had been adamant in their determination not to yield an inch to the Reds under threat of force. They said it was a matter of principle not to do so.

But they found they had a lot less than 100 per cent support at home or among American allies abroad for their determination to defend a couple of small islands which could hardly be claimed as essential to the defense of Formosa itself.

The Communist cease-fire, even on a temporary basis, came as a welcome relief.

The Reds may do themselves some damage in world opinion by resuming the shelling. They had stopped the shooting for humanitarian reasons, they said, to let the people and troops on Quemoy get supplies from Formosa.

They put on one condition: that American warships wouldn't escort the supply ships. Monday they gave as their reason for resuming the shelling the claim—denied by this country—that American ships again were escorting. The Reds left this up to the world to believe or not.

Reds Doubt Own Education System Is Really Topnotch

Editor's Note—Roy Essoyan, an American who speaks Russian fluently, spent three years in the Soviet Union as a correspondent of The Associated Press. He was expelled last month on a charge that he had evaded censorship. This is the first of four articles giving a keen insight into the Soviet Union of today.

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer
Russians think the Soviet system of education isn't what it's cracked up to be, especially by the United States.

Probably nobody was more surprised than the Russians at the near-panic of American reaction to Sputnik.

After Sputnik went into orbit, American educators went into a tailspin of agonizing reappraisal. The Russians lost no time in gleefully picking up the American refrain and crowing to the world that communism had shown capitalism how to educate youth.

But Nikita Khrushchev himself pricked that illusion recently when he ordered the system of Soviet education changed. He admitted it was inefficient, discriminatory and top heavy.

It produced scientists fine, he said in effect, but it also produced an inordinate number of misfits.

Khrushchev's way of solving the problem hasn't made the Russians any happier but they haven't been happy with their educational system since the Revolution threw theory out the classroom window.

The Soviet system has been a patchwork of experimentation.

After the Revolution everything that smacked of the old bourgeois ways was scrapped. This included religion, Latin and languages, science, physics, math and even discipline.

"Proletarianism" and Marxist "polytechnicism" took over. They condemned all theory divorced from practice.

Vocational training followed, and produced a generation of illiterate mechanics.

The light finally dawned in the early 30s and the pendulum swung back. Compulsory curricula were restored with physics, math, competitive exams, backbreaking homework and discipline.

After World War II this load was found too heavy. The Kremlin has been gradually reducing it.

But, as Khrushchev complained, the system now produces too many pampered intellectuals, boys and girls who have "lost their religious-minded" parents use influence to keep children out of the factory and collective farm.

The system, and Khrushchev's own short-lived campaign of de-stabilization and liberalization, also gave birth to widespread student discontent.

So now Soviet universities and industries, breeding grounds of student unrest, will be turned in effect into night schools and correspondence schools. Most Soviet children will leave the classroom to learn "respect for manual labor" from the seventh grade up.

No wonder Soviet parents are unhappy.

The Soviet school system has been under attack from parents and in Teacher's Gazette. This newspaper of the Ministry of Education has carried complaints for years against the shortage of schools, classrooms and textbooks. Some textbooks haven't been brought up to date in 30 years. Others, particularly histories, are rewritten all the time.

The paper has also attacked absenteeism and juvenile delinquency, blaming parents and teachers alike. Teachers have often been accused of ignorance, poor training and slipshod habits. According to some complaints many teachers don't know their subjects and some of the language teachers don't even know Russian well, let alone the languages they teach.

Hints of the drastic new change in the Soviet education system started appearing in the Soviet press more than a year ago. I met

Lorain Newspaper Abandons O'Neill

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—The Lorain Journal endorsed Democrat Michael V. DiSalle for governor of Ohio today. In 1956, the newspaper supported Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

In switching its endorsement to DiSalle the newspaper stated:

"Such a conclusion, obviously, is not lightly arrived at by a newspaper that until now has enthusiastically supported O'Neill every time he has run for state office.

"The plain truth is that the O'Neill administration is one of the most unsatisfactory in Ohio's history."

"Because of his experience as well as his moderation in the present campaign, he is a better man to heal the wounds that will be left by the right-to-work fight and restore the friendly industrial climate that is so vital to Ohio," the newspaper stated.

PICKAWAY FORD
596 N. COURT

no Russian parent who was pleased with the news.

The reason is not hard to find. Forty-one years have passed since the Revolution. The old revolutionaries are dying off. Except for a thin hard core, the revolutionary fervor is gone.

The Russian parent of today has developed a middle-class desire for security, for comforts and a better life for his children.

Many are unscrupulous about making sure their children don't have to go through the discomforts they did. And apparently those with money, influence or party connections have been surprisingly successful, despite the Kremlin's repeated protestations that discrimination does not exist.

The rewards of influence over ability are so well recognized that the Russians have a saying that covers the situation. Even Khrushchev couldn't resist mentioning it in announcing the latest change in Soviet education.

Referring to the stiff competitive exams which are supposed to determine who deserves a higher education, he quoted the saying: "After the competition of examinations comes the competition of parents, and the competition of parents is often far more decisive."

Old Fuddy-Duddy Belittles Push-Button Romance Ideas

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Women who hailed the dawn of the push-button age might well stop and take a second look at what the modern Magi has wrought.

It's fine to push a button and get the dishes washed, the clothes laundered, the roast cooked. It's all right to have an electric shoe shiner, even an electric comb which dries your hair.

And if you want an electric eye to open the garage door and a television set to watch the baby, that's okay be me.

But not to push a button to get a husband. I prefer the old-fashioned way.

I confess I am definitely shaken by accounts of the Hollywood wedding of a beaming young couple who found each other through Univac.

News pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kardell, nee Shirley Saunders, look like any other fond and happy bride and groom. He's handsome, she's radiant, and they gaze at each other with the proper expression of bliss.

But Shirley, and Robert were selected for each other by an electronic computer-analyzer on a television show. The fiendishly clever machine decided that these two people were made for each other, and the blushing couple agreed.

This push-button romance no doubt is scientifically sound. The machine says Shirley and Robert are ideally suited to each other, because of similar backgrounds, beliefs and taste. Probably the electronic marriage will be one of unalloyed bliss, and whenever one or the other of the couple starts to look askance at the other, the sheer weight of statistics will prevent a quarrel.

Since Univac is never wrong, they wouldn't dare to disagree.

Maybe I'm a reactionary old fuddy-duddy, but if that is what romance is coming to, I'm glad I got married before Cupid took up electronics.

I'd rather blunder along in the old human way, trusting to pulse, blood pressure and cloud seven to identify the man with whom I'm to spend the rest of my life.

This system may not be fool-proof, but it's fun.

Mother Nature seems to be playing her tricks here again by way of some pleasant fall weather.

Mrs. Eldon Frazier, Route 1, Circleville, reported finding a dazzling clump of violets at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds the other day.

Although frost has struck this area already, Mrs. Frazier said the violets were just as pretty as those found in early spring.

Ready for Winter with 105 billion cubic feet of gas in underground storage

When the icy blasts of winter sweep across the country, demands for fuel to heat homes and offices call for deliveries of extremely large volumes of natural gas.

Texas Eastern is ready and able to satisfy these demands through use of one of the world's largest underground storage reservoirs for natural gas—Oakford Storage Pool in southwestern Pennsylvania. This pool was developed jointly with another gas company and one-half of its capacity is available for use by each company.

Oakford is able to hold in storage 105 billion cubic feet of gas. To do this, two depleted gas sand formations are utilized. Oakford was selected for this purpose because its sands are ideally adapted to hold the gas and prevent leakage, and assure high deliverability when it comes time to remove the gas for Winter use.

All Summer, when demand is least, Texas Eastern pumps large volumes of gas into Oakford replacing what was used during the previous cold weather season. When Winter arrives, the pool is full and the gas is removed as needed to fill the increased demands.

Texas Eastern combines long-distance pipelines and underground storage to assure a continuing, ample supply—the year 'round—of this clean, economical and adaptable fuel—NATURAL GAS.

Reds Doubt Own Education System Is Really Topnotch

Editor's Note—Roy Essoyan, an American who speaks Russian fluently, spent three years in the Soviet Union as a correspondent of The Associated Press. He was expelled last month on a charge that he had evaded censorship. This is the first of four articles giving a keen insight into the Soviet Union of today.

By ROY ESSOYAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

Russians think the Soviet system of education isn't what it's cracked up to be, especially by the United States.

Probably nobody was more surprised than the Russians at the near-panic of American reaction to Sputnik.

After Sputnik went into orbit, American educators went into a tailspin of agonizing reappraisal. The Russians lost no time in gleefully picking up the American refrain and crowing to the world that communism had shown capitalism how to educate youth.

But Nikita Khrushchev himself pricked that illusion recently when he ordered the system of Soviet education changed. He admitted it was inefficient, discriminatory and top heavy.

It produced scientists fine, he said in effect, but it also produced an inordinate number of misfits. Khrushchev's way of solving the problem hasn't made the Russians any happier but they haven't been happy with their educational system since the Revolution threw theory out the classroom window.

The Soviet system has been a patchwork of experimentation.

After the Revolution everything that smacked of the old bourgeois ways was scrapped. This included religion, Latin and languages, science, physics, math and even discipline.

"Proletarianism" and Marxist "polytechnism" took over. They condemned all theory divorced from practice.

Vocational training followed, and produced a generation of illiterate mechanics.

The light finally dawned in the early 30s and the pendulum swung back. Compulsory curricula were restored with physics, math, competitive exams, backbreaking homework and discipline.

After World War II this load was found too heavy. The Kremlin has been gradually reducing it.

But, as Khrushchev complained, the system now produces too many pampered intellectuals, boys and girls who have "lost their religious-minded" parents use influence to keep children out of the factory and collective farm.

The system, and Khrushchev's own short-lived campaign of de-stabilization and liberalization, also gave birth to widespread student discontent.

So now Soviet universities and industries, breeding grounds of student unrest, will be turned in effect into night schools and correspondence schools. Most Soviet children will leave the classroom to learn "respect for manual labor" from the seventh grade up. No wonder Soviet parents are unhappy.

The Soviet school system has been under attack from parents and in Teacher's Gazette. This newspaper of the Ministry of Education has carried complaints for years against the shortage of schools, classrooms and textbooks. Some textbooks haven't been brought up to date in 30 years. Others, particularly histories, are rewritten all the time.

The paper has also attacked absenteeism and juvenile delinquency, blaming parents and teachers alike. Teachers have often been accused of ignorance, poor training and slipshod habits. According to some complaints many teachers don't know their subjects and some of the language teachers don't even know Russian well, let alone the languages they teach.

Hints of the drastic new change in the Soviet education system started appearing in the Soviet press more than a year ago. I met

Lorain Newspaper Abandons O'Neill

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—The Lorain Journal endorsed Democrat Michael V. DiSalle for governor of Ohio today. In 1936, the newspaper supported Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

In switching its endorsement to DiSalle the newspaper stated:

"Such a conclusion, obviously, is not lightly arrived at by a newspaper that until now has enthusiastically supported O'Neill every time he has run for state office. The plain truth is that the O'Neill administration is one of the most unsatisfactory in Ohio's history."

"Because of his experience as well as his moderation in the present campaign, he is a better man to heal the wounds that will be left by the right-to-work fight and restore the friendly industrial climate that is so vital to Ohio," the newspaper stated.

no Russian parent who was pleased with the news.

The reason is not hard to find. Forty-one years have passed since the Revolution. The old revolutionaries are dying off. Except for a thin hard core, the revolutionary fervor is gone.

The Russian parent of today has developed a middle-class desire for security, for comforts and a better life for his children.

Many are unscrupulous about making sure their children don't have to go through the discomforts they did. And apparently those with money, influence or party connections have been surprisingly successful, despite the Kremlin's repeated protestations that discrimination does not exist.

The rewards of influence over ability are so well recognized that the Russians have a saying that covers the situation. Even Khrushchev couldn't resist mentioning it in announcing the latest change in Soviet education.

Referring to the stiff competitive exams which are supposed to determine who deserves a higher education, he quoted the saying: "After the competition of examinations comes the competition of parents, and the competition of parents is often far more decisive."

"Changing Patterns" Topic Presented to Monday Club

The Monday Club met in regular session in the Trustees' Room at the library Monday evening. Mrs. Bishop Given opened the meeting with the Collect for Club Women by Mary Stewart. After a brief business meeting the program began with a duet, "America My Own", sung by Mrs. James Hodges and Mrs. Harold Defenbaugh.

Miss Jeannette Reichelderfer presented a paper entitled "Changing Patterns for Women." She asked the question, "Is our changing Social and Economic order—what is woman's place in Government?" Then she cited instances in which women have filled places of influence in the political life of our nation.

She spoke of women in Congress, women serving as judges, ambassadors and women in high policy posts, specifically she mentioned Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor; Judge Florence E. Allen; Ruth Bryan Owen, minister to Denmark and Nellie Taloe Ross, first woman director of the U. S. Mint. Other women mentioned were: Oveta Culp Hobby, Clara Booth Luce, Francis E. Willis, Ivy Baker Priest, Frances P. Bolton and Eleanor Roosevelt.

Statistically speaking, Miss Reichelderfer explained that women

Junior Clubs of District 7 of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs were privileged to hear an address by Mrs. Leo Curtis, Director of Junior Clubs for the General Federation of Women's Clubs, at a meeting held in the Community Room of the Suburban Motor Freight Company, Columbus. The meeting was sponsored by the Federated Junior Women's Clubs of Columbus. Mrs. L. E. Mielke, of the Linden Junior Civic Club, acted as chairman of the evening.

Mrs. Curtis was welcomed with a song entitled, "We've Got a Gal," written especially for her. She chose the topic, "Federation Family Business," for her talk in which she told of the tremendous part clubwomen play in our world today. As an aid to Junior Clubs in their programs and projects for 1958-60, Mrs. Curtis gave her "Five A's For Action," as follows: Appraise your community, club and home. Ascertain what you can do to improve existing conditions. Investigate the possibilities for action through all available agencies.

Arouse the interest of fellow clubmembers, neighbors, state and national legislators to the need for corrective action. Point out deficiencies and suggest remedies. Present a challenge for action. Assist individuals and organizations dedicated to the betterment of our way of life. The needs are numerous and the assistance of clubwomen is vital to assure success. These programs and projects have been prepared to provide ideas to promote activities in many fields.

Old Perennial Massillon Tops Ohio Grid Poll

Warren's First Loss
Puts Team in 5th;
Alliance Rated as 2nd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's Tigers, champions of Ohio high school football seven of the last 10 campaigns, topped The Associated Press scholastic grid poll today.

The Stark County powerhouse wheeled out front with a 20-8 win over tenth-ranked Mansfield — with a hearty assist from Canton Central Catholic which came from nowhere to upset No. 1 Warren Harding 8-0.

The defeat shoved Warren down to fifth place as the Tigers moved up a notch to the top rung.

The entire top 10 played "musical chairs" and wound up in a different spot from last week as 35 sports editors voted in the weekly poll. Along with Warren's Panthers, sixth-place Springfield was dumped 8-6 by Hamilton and skidded to eighth; Troy lost its first in 36 starts, 14-0 to Dayton Fairmont and dropped from seventh to among the also-rans, and Mansfield also slipped from the elite list.

Elyria eased back into the top 10, grabbing ninth place after a week's absence. Canton Central Catholic, with a 4-1-1 record, took tenth on the strength of its win over the pace-setting Panthers.

Alliance Aviators advanced from third to second to give Stark County the two top berths.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin beat John Adams 26-0, and Marion Harding blasted Findlay 38-0, as the victors advanced to third and fourth, respectively. Newark handed Zanesville its first defeat, 14-7, and jumped from ninth to sixth, while Youngstown East moved up a rung to seventh with an 8-0 nod over Rayen.

Warren's coach of the year, Gene Slaughter, said Canton Central was the best team his Panthers had faced this year, and that Central quarterback Dick Proebstle was the best signal-caller he'd seen. The shutout was the first in nine years for Slaughter—and six fumbles by the Panthers paved the way for it.

John Mummy, Painesville Harvey's state scoring leader of 1957 when he counted 187 points, upped his 1958 six-game total to 124 in Friday's 65-0 win over Wickliffe. He scored three touchdowns for a total of 18, and has rushed eight times for conversions.

Sophomore half back Ronnie Shackleford of Washington C. H., carried 16 times for 194 yards Friday night—give him 987 yards in 76 tries for the season. He's scored 100 points on 14 touchdowns and eight extra-point rushes.

Tigers Resume Grid Warfare Friday with Franklin Heights

Coach Tom Bennett and his Circleville Tiger gridgers get down to the serious task of prepping for Friday night's game here with Franklin Heights.

The Tigers will resume action after a week's layoff from the grid wars. After Friday night, two more games remain on the schedule, a test with Portsmouth East here and an away tilt with Washington C. H. the following Friday.

The Tigers will be out to hit a winning stride again after dropping their last contest, a 14-0 decision at Greenfield. They also will be gunning for their fourth victory in six starts.

Franklin Heights, a new member of the South Central Ohio League and a relatively new school, will make its first appearance on the local field.

BY WAY of mutual comparison, Franklin Heights downed Wilmington, 16-8, but lost to Greenfield, 25-0, Friday night. Circleville trounced Wilmington, 21-12, and was bumped by Greenfield, 14-0.

This is an indication that the two teams might be evenly matched.

Jap Pitcher Wins 4th Tilt in 5 Days

TOKYO (AP)—Kazuhisa Inao, fabulous boy wonder of Fukuoka, pitched his fourth victory in five days today as the Nishitetsu Lions defeated the Yomiuri Giants 6-1 in the deciding seventh game of the Japan baseball world series.

The Lions, winning the series for the third straight year, won the last four games — all by the 21-year-old Inao — after losing the first three of the best of seven set. Inao had a 35-10 record for the Lions in regular season play.

ey has completed 18 of 29 passes for 351 yards and seven touchdowns. End Ray Peterson is his favorite target, having caught 12 for 234 yards and six scores. Galion whipped Upper Sandusky 26-0 for its 13th straight victory and 17th without a loss.

Both will go all out for the league win.

Although no game was scheduled, the Tigers held regular practices last week at the fairgrounds. Routine drills were stressed along with special emphasis on offense. The Tigers appear to be in good physical shape, although halfback Walt Arledge came up limping last week. However, he should be ready by Friday night.

Badgers Hope To Break Jinx Against OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers, who have never won a game in Ohio State's stadium, will try to break the jinx Saturday before some 83,000 fans. Licking their wounds from an unexpected 20-9 upset Saturday by loss, the Badgers should be on the rebound against the big Bucks who have copped four straight.

Esco Sarkkinen, Buckeye cloak-and-dagger expert who has watched Wisconsin in three games this fall, summed it up with:

"All season Wisconsin has been looking ahead to this one. It is dedicated to beating Ohio State. I wish they could have come in here unbeaten—our job would have been easier. But they won't be overconfident now, and they'll be tougher. I figure the team which makes the fewest mistakes will win it."

Both Ohio and Wisconsin had gone through three games without a fumble—but last Saturday the Bucks gave up three bobbles to Indiana, and Wisconsin four to Iowa.

Wisconsin hasn't beaten Ohio since its 20-7 win at Madison in 1946, and has had but one tie since then. A year ago a field goal was the difference in Ohio's 16-13 win, despite the fact the Badgers had a 16-8 advantage in first downs and outgained Ohio 274 to 251. Nine of Wisconsin's 11 starters are back.

The Badgers whipped Miami 20-0, Marquette 50-0 and Purdue 31-6 in its first three games before being snubbed by Iowa. They use Ohio's ball-control offense, mostly from the straight T-formation.

Even Pro Coaches Grumble About 'Bad' Grid Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officialing, good or bad, is one of three keys to the outcome of pro football games says Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins.

Kuharich's clubs usually are the least penalized in the National Football League.

He emphasized today that he is not quarreling with any of the crews that police NFL games when he says "officiating and penalties are intangible things" which hurt one day and help the next.

Two pro coaches, Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams and Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers, have complained about officiating at Wrigley Field in Chicago the last two weeks.

Officiating also has caused a small tempest in college football's

Big Ten. Coach Woody Hayes of Ohio State stomped out on the field last Saturday to protest a decision.

Kuharich skirted both controversies, but said the caliber of officiating is sometimes crucial to winning or losing.

Pro teams are so evenly balanced, he said, that "the three most important factors in determining the outcome of a game are fumbles, interceptions and officials' decisions."

For example: "Say a back gets away for 30 or 40 yards and the play is nullified by a clipping penalty. That could turn the tide. Or maybe on a long gain there is a holding violation which the officials miss. You never know."

For three of Kuharich's four seasons as coach the Redskins have been penalized for less yardage than any other NFL team. They're in the same position so far this year.

Browns See Stern Tests Just Ahead

CLEVELAND (AP)—Any conclusion that the powerful, unbeaten Cleveland Browns will walk away with the Eastern Division title of the National Football League is just about two weeks premature.

Against the fancy offense of the Cardinals in Chicago next Sunday and bucking the strong defense of the New York Giants there the following week, the Browns will meet their sternest test thus far.

It is one of Coach Paul Brown's favorite maxims that it's always a great deal tougher to beat a NFL club on the second go-around. So far as Brown is concerned the 35-28 victory over the Cards here two weeks ago is no cause for confidence.

"The more we've looked at the movies of that last game with the Cards, it becomes apparent they have far more than a new offense," Brown said. "They have come up with some fine players. "Fellows like Ollie Matson and John Crow do a lot on their own. It's like Jim Brown and Bobby Mitchell.

With their 2-2 records against Cleveland's 4-0, the Cards, Giants and Washington Redskins could climb quickly into Eastern Division contention.

The game in Chicago Sunday should give some idea of how much the Browns will be hurt by an indefinite absence of Mike McCormack, veteran offensive tackle.

Boosters Hold Special Meet

Officers and directors of the Circleville Boosters Club met in special session last night in the home of CHS Coach Tom Bennett, Knollwood village.

The group decided that the annual Circleville High School Football Banquet will be conducted as a pot luck dinner. The date and place for the banquet will be announced at the next meeting, scheduled November 3.

President Dave Crawford named Robert Huffer, local attorney, to serve as toastmaster. Entertainment will include showing of films of some of the CHS grid games this season.

Plans were discussed for the annual spaghetti dinner which will be held in the near future at the local High School.

Another project up for discussion was the selling of tickets for a portable television set.

Big Newk Records Good Hit Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Don Newcombe, a good hittin' pitcher who hasn't done much effective pitching the last couple of seasons, led the major league hurlers in batting with a .361 average in 1958.

Newcombe collected 26 hits in 72 times at bat. He had one double and one home run and drove in nine runs. A left-handed batsman, Newcombe also paced the big league moundsmen in batting with a .359 mark in 1958. His lifetime average for eight seasons in the majors is .270 with 12 homers and 85 runs batted in.

Old Perennial Massillon Tops Ohio Grid Poll

Warren's First Loss
Puts Team in 5th;
Alliance Rated as 2nd

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Massillon's Tigers, champions of Ohio high school football seven of the last 10 campaigns, topped The Associated Press scholastic grid poll today.

The Stark County powerhouse wheeled out front with a 20-8 win over tenth-ranked Mansfield — with a hearty assist from Canton Central Catholic which came from nowhere to upset No. 1 Warren Harding 8-0.

The defeat shoved Warren down to fifth place as the Tigers moved up a notch to the top rung.

The entire top 10 played "musical chairs" and wound up in a different spot from last week as 35 sports editors voted in the weekly poll. Along with Warren's Panthers, sixth-place Springfield was dumped 8-6 by Hamilton and skidded to eighth; Troy lost its first in 36 starts, 14-0 to Dayton Fairmont and dropped from seventh to among the also-rans, and Mansfield also slipped from the elite list.

Elyria eased back into the top 10, grabbing ninth place after a week's absence. Canton Central Catholic, with a 4-1-1 record, took tenth on the strength of its win over the pace-setting Panthers.

Alliance Aviators advanced from third to second to give Stark County the two top berths.

Cleveland Cathedral Latin beat John Adams 26-0, and Marion Harding blasted Findlay 38-0, as the victors advanced to third and fourth, respectively. Newark handed Zanesville its first defeat, 14-7, and jumped from ninth to sixth, while Youngstown East moved up a rung to seventh with an 8-0 nod over Rayon.

Warren's coach of the year, Gene Slaughter, said Canton Central was the best team his Panthers had faced this year, and that Central quarterback Dick Proebstle was the best signal-caller he'd seen. The shutout was the first in nine years for Slaughter—and six fumbles by the Panthers paved the way for it.

John Mummey, Painesville Harvey's state scoring leader of 1957 when he counted 187 points, upped his 1958 six-game total to 124 in Friday's 65-0 win over Wickliffe. He scored three touchdowns for a total of 18, and has rushed eight times for conversions.

Sophomore halfback Ronnie Shackelford of Washington C. H., carried 16 times for 194 yards Friday night—give him 987 yards in 76 tries for the season. He's scored 109 points on 14 touchdowns and eight extra-point rushes.

Tigers Resume Grid Warfare Friday with Franklin Heights

Coach Tom Bennett and his Circleville Tiger gridders get down to the serious task of prepping for Friday night's game here with Franklin Heights.

The Tigers will resume action after a week's layoff from the grid wars. After Friday night, two more games remain on the schedule, a test with Portsmouth East here and an away tilt with Washington C. H. the following Friday.

The Tigers will be out to hit a winning stride again after dropping their last contest, a 14-0 decision at Greenfield. They also will be gunning for their fourth victory in six starts.

Franklin Heights, a new member of the South Central Ohio League and a relatively new school, will make its first appearance on the local field.

BY WAY of mutual comparison, Franklin Heights downed Wilmington, 16-8, but lost to Greenfield, 25-0, Friday night. Circleville trounced Wilmington, 21-12, and was bumped by Greenfield, 14-0.

This is an indication that the two teams might be evenly matched.

Jap Pitcher Wins 4th Tilt in 5 Days

TOKYO (AP)—Kazuhisa Inao, fabulous boy wonder of Fukuoka, pitched his fourth victory in five days today as the Nishitetsu Lions defeated the Yomiuri Giants 6-1 in the deciding seventh game of the Japan baseball world series.

The Lions, winning the series for the third straight year, won the last four games — all by the 21-year-old Inao — after losing the first three of the best of seven set. Inao had a 35-10 record for the Lions in regular season play.

ey has completed 18 of 29 passes for 351 yards and seven touchdowns. End Ray Peterson is his favorite target, having caught 12 for 234 yards and six scores. Gallion whipped Upper Sandusky 26-0 for its 13th straight victory and 17th without a loss.

Both will go all out for the league win.

Although no game was scheduled, the Tigers held regular practices last week at the fairgrounds. Routine drills were stressed along with special emphasis on offense. The Tigers appear to be in good physical shape, although limberback Walt Arledge came up limping last week. However, he should be ready by Friday night.

Badgers Hope To Break Jinx Against OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Wisconsin's Badgers, who have never won a game in Ohio State's stadium, will try to break the jinx Saturday before some 83,000 fans. Licking their wounds from an unexpected 20-9 upset Saturday by loss, the Badgers should be on the rebound against the big Bucks who have copped four straight.

Esco Sarkinen, Buckeye cloak-and-dagger expert who has watched Wisconsin in three games this fall, summed it up with:

"All season Wisconsin has been looking ahead to this one. It is dedicated to beating Ohio State. I wish they could have come in here unbeaten—our job would have been easier. But they won't be overconfident now, and they'll be tougher. I figure the team which makes the fewest mistakes will win it."

Both Ohio and Wisconsin had gone through three games without a fumble—but last Saturday the Bucks gave up three fumbles to Indiana, and Wisconsin four to Iowa.

Wisconsin hasn't beaten Ohio since its 20-7 win at Madison in 1946, and has had but one tie since then. A year ago a field goal was the difference in Ohio's 16-13 win, despite the fact the Badgers had a 16-8 advantage in first downs and outgained Ohio 274 to 251. Nine of Wisconsin's 11 starters are back.

The Badgers whipped Miami 20-0, Marquette 50-0 and Purdue 31-6 in its first three games before being snubbed by Iowa. They use Ohio's ball-control offense, mostly from the straight T-formation.

Even Pro Coaches Grumble About 'Bad' Grid Officials

WASHINGTON (AP)—Officialing, good or bad, is one of three keys to the outcome of pro football games says Coach Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins.

Kuharich's clubs usually are the least penalized in the National Football League.

He emphasized today that he is not quarreling with any of the crews that police NFL games when he says "officialing and penalties are intangible things" which hurt one day and help the next.

Two pro coaches, Sid Gillman of the Los Angeles Rams and Frankie Albert of the San Francisco 49ers, have complained about officialing at Wrigley Field in Chicago the last two weeks.

Officialing also has caused a small tempest in college football's

Browns See Stern Tests Just Ahead

CLEVELAND (AP)—Any conclusion that the powerful, unbeaten Cleveland Browns will walk away with the Eastern Division title of the National Football League is just about two weeks premature.

Against the fancy offense of the Cardinals in Chicago next Sunday and bucking the strong defense of the New York Giants there the following week, the Browns will meet their sternest test thus far.

It is one of Coach Paul Brown's favorite maxims that it's always a great deal tougher to beat a NFL club on the second go-around. So far as Brown is concerned the 35-28 victory over the Cards here two weeks ago is no cause for confidence.

"The more we've looked at the movies of that last game with the Cards, it becomes apparent they have far more than a new offense," Brown said. "They have come up with some fine players. "Follows like Ollie Matson and John Crow do a lot on their own. It's like Jim Brown and Bobby Mitchell.

With their 2-2 records against Cleveland's 4-0, the Cards, Giants and Washington Redskins could climb quickly into Eastern Division contention.

The game in Chicago Sunday should give some idea of how much the Browns will be hurt by an indefinite absence of Mike McCormack, veteran offensive tackle.

Boosters Hold Special Meet

Officers and directors of the Circleville Boosters Club met in special session last night in the home of CHS Coach Tom Bennett, Knollwood village.

The group decided that the annual Circleville High School Football Banquet will be conducted as a pot luck dinner. The date and place for the banquet will be announced at the next meeting, scheduled November 3.

President Dave Crawford named Robert Huffer, local attorney, to serve as toastmaster. Entertainment will include showing of films of some of the CHS grid games this season.

Plans were discussed for the annual spaghetti dinner which will be held in the near future at the local High School.

Another project up for discussion was the selling of tickets for a portable television set.

Big Newk Records Good Hit Mark

NEW YORK (AP)—Big Don Newcombe, a good hittin' pitcher who hasn't done much effective pitching the last couple of seasons, led the major league hurlers in batting with a .361 average in 1958.

Newcombe collected 26 hits in 72 times at bat. He had one double and one home run and drove in nine runs. A left-handed batsman, Newcombe also paced the big league moundsmen in batting with a .359 mark in 1957. His lifetime average for eight seasons in the majors is .270 with 12 homers and 85 runs batted in.

New Radio Series To Study Change for Man in Future

NEW YORK (AP)—At the frantic rate life is changing on this planet, do you often wonder how much control you personally have over your own future?

CBS radio believes that you do and Wednesday (7 p.m. EST) will present the first in an absorbing new series of special one hour monthly programs which probe American life as it is and will or won't be. It is called "The Hidden Revolution."

Edward R. Murrow will be the narrator of the commercially sponsored programs produced by the public affairs department of CBS news.

Discussing the series recently, Irving Gittlin, director of the public affairs department, pointed out that change—or "advance," as many call it—is occurring as rapidly in social, political and human affairs as in the more widely discussed realm of science. All these fields will be examined in "The Hidden Revolution" series.

"The fantasy boys had better wake up," Gittlin said. "They're 100 years behind the times."

What do you mean by "change"?

Item: Some political scientists believe that our systems of state government in this country are outmoded. The ideal government of the future is regional government, in which the arbitrary boundaries of the states are dissolved and regions of mutual geographic or economic interest create their own new governmental systems. The way already has been opened by such bodies as tri-state and bi-state authorities dealing with mutual problems.

Item: There is a "revolution" in urban living and population shifts that is making many local governments outmoded. As a fascinating example, the area from Portland, Maine to Norfolk, Va., is now virtually one continuous city.

Item: A machine has been developed that changes its behavior on the basis of new information given it. It now is possible for a machine to have original ideas—or, as someone said, to survive a prefrontal lobotomy.

"The thesis of the first show," said Gittlin, "is that the individual must know what is happening and must try to decide his own role in the scheme of things."

Gittlin says that radio can produce such an ambitious series of programs more effectively and less expensively than television. For example, "by using a simple tape recorder rather than the complicated paraphernalia of television, one can more readily capture people's innermost thoughts." The cost of a hard-hitting one hour radio documentary is about $10,000 as compared to $100,000 for a TV program of comparable scope.

Foreign Gadget Makers Claim U.S. Attention

Business Machine Show Finds Imports Playing Major Role

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Paper work mounts in recession or recovery. And machines and methods for handling or thwarting it fascinate businessmen almost as much as coming jaunts into outer space.

As the making of business gadgets prospers, foreign makers of equipment are invading this market, and more American companies are branching out into dictating machines or computers.

The competition has grown markedly for orders from businessmen bowed under the weight of paper work and the growing cost of clerical staffs, and seeking more efficient machines, and if possible cheaper ones.

Of the 370 exhibits at the National Business Show opening here Monday, 10 per cent are by foreign manufacturers, and their exhibits cover 14 per cent of the five acres of display space, or just about double the foreign sector of last year's show.

Foreign equipment runs from ink, dictating machines, adders and calculators, to duplicating and copying machines, typewriters, telephones and telephonic equipment.

American competitors note that their foreign rivals have learned three sales gimmicks. This year the foreign products look more like American ones in style and color. Their promotion through booklets and catalogs is very much along American lines. And they have taken a leaf from the foreign car makers and are now stressing service to overcome the former doubts of customers as to problems of getting parts and repairs.

Into the field are coming more American competitors, too. A company long known for radio and TV sets is using the show to introduce its new computer. Another company best known for its medical and dental equipment is introducing a magazine-loaded dictating machine.

Other manufacturers exhibiting in the show are more widely known as makers of paper products, photographic equipment, or adhesive tape.

The chief style revolution this year among basic office machines—the typewriters, adders, dictation gadgets—is to make them as small as efficiency permits, as easy to operate as can be, and as portable as possible.

Burglars Show Skill With Fostoria Safe

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Police today were seeking some skilled burglars who broke into Dunn's Bowling Lanes early Sunday and carted off a 750-pound safe containing $1,100. Police said the thieves apparently used a crowbar to pry off hinges on a back door, hardly making a mark, and took the safe out through a side door. Liquor, a television set and other valuable furnishings were left untouched.

Hospital Vote Outlined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you expect to be in the hospital election day, Nov. 4, a new state law permits you to go to the local election board ahead of time to vote by absentee ballot, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has reminded voters.

Vacationing Ohioan Dies In Tennessee Hospital

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—A Milford, Ohio, insurance agent, vacationing here with his wife, died in a Knoxville hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in a fall. The coroner's office said John Hardester, 62, suffered head injuries when he fell down the hotel's front steps.

Peter Listed As Last of Bureau-Cats

LONDON (AP)—The last bureau-cat in the service of the British government is Peter, official mouser of the Home Office.

Peter is on the ministry's payroll at 6 pounds 10 shillings ($18.20).

This pay, in reality an expense allowance, has just been increased due to rising costs.

Government cats used to serve in most ministries.

The Home Office got down a file marked "Office cats, maintenance" to get Peter's history.

"It says here," the spokesman droned, "Peter joined the Home Office staff when he was a kitten 10 years ago."

What's Peter's score for mice? "We don't keep statistics. But everyone seems satisfied that he does his job well."

What happens when Peter dies? "We don't entertain the idea here."

As long as men can remember there always has been a Peter in the Home Office.

Always black.

Mathews Aiming For Knockout in Zulueta Match

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Len Mathews takes the biggest risk of his short but brilliant fight career tonight against Orlando Zulueta, a veteran of seven times as many bouts.

Zulueta, 30-year-old Cuban who has met four lightweight champions, has shown little concern despite the 2-1 odds favoring the unbeaten Philadelphia knockout artist. Noting his record of 109 fights, Zulueta asked, "Should I be worried by a boy with 14 bouts?"

"Yes," says Mathews' manager, Anthony Graziano.

Mathews won 12 of the 14 knockouts and Graziano has made it clear the 19-year-old sensation will be going for another KO. "Len will be shooting for an early

Lions Chief Chides Critics of Team

DETROIT (AP)—A belligerent George Wilson said today his Detroit Lions could do with more encouragement and less criticism for their poor start in the National Football League race.

"If we can get the front-runners off our backs, we'll be in far better shape," he said. "We have enough trouble winning without having to put up with that kind of stuff."

Coach Wilson, his aides and the players have been criticized by the press and the fans for the club's failure to win in four starts after capturing the world championship a season ago.

knockout. That's the way we planned this fight and that's the way it's going to be," Graziano said. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Pro Basketball Due For Cincy Opening

CINCINNATI (AP)—Professional basketball makes its 1958-59 season debut in Cincinnati tonight but the two games scheduled at the Cincinnati Garden won't count in the National Basketball Association standing.

The games, pitting the world champion St. Louis Hawks against the runner-up Boston Celtics and the Cincinnati Royals against the Detroit Pistons, will be exhibitions played for the benefit of Maurice Stokes.

Stokes, one of the top NBA stars, has been hospitalized since last March and his illness now has been diagnosed as encephalopathy (a brain disease). He has never been more than partly conscious since being stricken while enroute here from Detroit with his Royals teammates.

Haughton Entry Eyed In $98,837 Trot Test

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Hickory Pride and Circo, entered by Billy Haughton, were favored in a field of 10 in tonight's $98,837 Hilltop Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

This is the richest event in the country for 2-year-old trotters and the winner could emerge as the favorite for next year's Hambletonian. The Haughton entry was rated at 2-1 in the early line followed by Diller Hanover and Solid Choice, entered by Ralph Baldwin, and Brogue Hanover, sent in by Joe O'Brien.

New Radio Series To Study Change for Man in Future

NEW YORK (AP)—At the frantic rate life is changing on this planet, do you often wonder how much control you personally have over your own future?

CBS radio believes that you do and Wednesday (7 p.m. EST) will present the first in an absorbing new series of special one hour monthly programs which probe American life as it is and will or won't be. It is called "The Hidden Revolution."

Edward R. Murrow will be the narrator of the commercially sponsored programs produced by the public affairs department of CBS news.

Discussing the series recently, Irving Gittlin, director of the public affairs department, pointed out that change—or "advance," as many call it—is occurring as rapidly in social, political and human affairs as in the more widely discussed realm of science. All these fields will be examined in "The Hidden Revolution" series.

"The fantasy boys had better wake up," Gittlin said. "They're 100 years behind the times."

What do you mean by "change"?

Item: Some political scientists believe that our systems of state government in this country are outmoded. The ideal government of the future is regional government, in which the arbitrary boundaries of the states are dissolved and regions of mutual geographic or economic interest create their own new governmental systems. The way already has been opened by such bodies as tri-state and bi-state authorities dealing with mutual problems.

Item: There is a "revolution" in urban living and population shifts that is making many local governments outmoded. As a fascinating example, the area from Portland, Maine to Norfolk, Va., is now virtually one continuous city.

Item: A machine has been developed that changes its behavior on the basis of new information given it. It now is possible for a machine to have original ideas—or, as someone said, to survive a prefrontal lobotomy.

"The thesis of the first show," said Gittlin, "is that the individual must know what is happening and must try to decide his own role in the scheme of things."

Gittlin says that radio can produce such an ambitious series of programs more effectively and less expensively than television. For example, "by using a simple tape recorder rather than the complicated paraphernalia of television, one can more readily capture people's innermost thoughts." The cost of a hard-hitting one hour radio documentary is about $10,000 as compared to $10,000 for a TV program of comparable scope.

Burglars Show Skill With Fostoria Safe

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—Police today were seeking some skilled burglars who broke into Dunn's Bowling Lanes early Sunday and carted off a 750-pound safe containing $1,100. Police said the thieves apparently used a crowbar to pry off hinges on a back door, hardly making a mark, and took the safe out through a side door. Liquor, a television set and other valuable furnishings were left untouched.

Hospital Vote Outlined

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—If you expect to be in the hospital election day, Nov. 4, a new state law permits you to go to the local election board ahead of time to vote by absentee ballot. Secretary of State Ted W. Brown has reminded voters.

Vacationing Ohioan Dies In Tennessee Hospital

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP)—A Milford, Ohio, insurance agent, vacationing here with his wife, died in a Knoxville Hospital Sunday night of injuries suffered in a fall. The coroner's office said John Hardoefer, 62, suffered head injuries when he fell down the hotel's front steps.

Peter Listed As Last of Bureau-Cats

LONDON (AP)—The last bureau-cat in the service of the British government is Peter, official mouser of the Home Office.

Peter is on the ministry's payroll at 6 pounds 10 shillings ($18.20).

This pay, in reality an expense allowance, has just been increased due to rising costs.

Government cats used to serve in most ministries.

The Home Office got down a file marked "Office cats, maintenance" to get Peter's history.

"It says here," the spokesman droned, "Peter joined the Home Office staff when he was a kitten 10 years ago."

What's Peter's score for mice? "We don't keep statistics. But everyone seems satisfied that he does his job well."

What happens when Peter dies? "We don't entertain the idea here."

As long as men can remember there always has been a Peter in the Home Office. Always black.

Mathews Aiming For Knockout in Zulueta Match

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Len Mathews takes the biggest risk of his short but brilliant fight career tonight against Orlando Zulueta, a veteran of seven times as many bouts.

Zulueta, 30-year-old Cuban who has met four lightweight champions, has shown little concern despite the 2-1 odds favoring the unbeaten Philadelphia knockout artist. Noting his record of 109 fights, Zulueta asked, "Should I be worried by a boy with 14 bouts?"

"Yes," says Mathews' manager, Anthony Graziano.

Mathews won 12 of the 14 knockouts and Graziano has made it clear the 19-year-old sensation will be going for another KO. "Len will be shooting for an early

Lions Chief Chides Critics of Team

DETROIT (AP)—A belligerent George Wilson said today his Detroit Lions could do with more encouragement and less criticism for their poor start in the National Football League race.

"If we can get the front-runners off our backs, we'll be in far better shape," he said. "We have enough trouble winning without having to put up with that kind of stuff."

Coach Wilson, his aides and the players have been criticized by the press and the fans for the club's failure to win in four starts after capturing the world championship a season ago.

knockout. That's the way we planned this fight and that's the way it's going to be," Graziano said. The bout is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Pro Basketball Due For Cincy Opening

CINCINNATI (AP)—Professional basketball makes its 1958-59 season debut in Cincinnati tonight but the two games scheduled at the Cincinnati Garden won't count in the National Basketball Ass'n. standing.

The games, pitting the world champion St. Louis Hawks against the runner-up Boston Celtics and the Cincinnati Royals against the Detroit Pistons, will be exhibitions played for the benefit of Maurice Stokes.

Stokes, one of the top NBA stars, has been hospitalized since last March and his illness now has been diagnosed as encephalopathy (a brain disease). He has never been more than partly conscious since being stricken while enroute here from Detroit with his Royals teammates.

Haughton Entry Eyed In $98,837 Trot Test

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Hickory Pride and Circo, entered by Billy Haughton, were favored in a field of 10 in tonight's $98,837 Hilltop Trot at Yonkers Raceway.

This is the richest event in the country for 2-year-old trotters and the winner could emerge as the favorite for next year's Hambletonian. The Haughton entry was rated at 2-1 in the early line followed by Diller Hanover and Solid Choice, entered by Ralph Baldwin, and Brogue Hanover, sent in by Joe O'Brien.

Foreign Gadget Makers Claim U.S. Attention

Business Machine Show Finds Imports Playing Major Role

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Paper work mounts in recession or recovery. And machines and methods for handling or thwarting it fascinate businessmen almost as much as coming jaunts into outer space.

As the making of business gadgets prospers, foreign makers of equipment are invading this market, and more American companies are branching out into dictating machines or computers.

The competition has grown markedly for orders from businessmen bowed under the weight of paper work and the growing cost of clerical staffs, and seeking more efficient machines, and if possible cheaper ones.

Of the 370 exhibits at the National Business Show opening here Monday, 10 per cent are by foreign manufacturers, and their exhibits cover 14 per cent of the five acres of display space, or just about double the foreign sector of last year's show.

Foreign equipment runs from inks, dictating machines, adders and calculators, to duplicating and copying machines, typewriters, telephones and telephonic equipment.

American competitors note that their foreign rivals have learned three sales gimmicks. This year the foreign products look more like American ones in style and color. Their promotion through booklets and catalogs is very much along American lines. And they have taken a leaf from the foreign car makers and are now stressing service to overcome the former doubts of customers as to problems of getting parts and repairs.

Into the field are coming more American competitors, too. A company long known for radio and TV sets is using the show to introduce its new computer. Another company best known for its medical and dental equipment is introducing a magazine-loaded dictating machine.

Other manufacturers exhibiting in the show are more widely known as makers of paper products, photographic equipment, or adhesive tape.

The chief style revolution this year among basic office machines—the typewriters, adders, dictation gadgets—is to make them as small as efficiency permits, as easy to operate as can be, and as portable as possible.

Ohio Red Probe Review Is OKd

Supreme Court Grants Another Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court has agreed to consider again the cases of three persons convicted of contempt for refusing to answer questions asked by the Un-American Activities Commission of Ohio.

Talmadge Raley, an official of the United Electrical Workers, Joseph Stern and Emmett Calvin Brown made their refusals at a commission session in Cincinnati on Oct. 20, 1952. Each was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined $500.

The high tribunal on June 24, 1957 told Ohio courts to reconsider the case in the light of a Supreme Court decision in what have become known as the Watkins and Sweezy rulings.

In the Watkins case the Supreme Court criticized the broad nature of the resolution creating the House Committee on Un-American Activities and said there is no congressional power to expose for the sake of exposure.

In the Sweezy case the high court said the New Hampshire legislature had given that state's attorney general too sweeping and uncertain a mandate to investigate subversive activities.

Ohio Supreme Court reconsidered the case of the three, and on Feb. 11, 1958, it found nothing to warrant a change in its first judgment against the men.

Appealing again to the U.S. Supreme Court, the three contended the Ohio legislature gave the commission authority "so sweeping, indiscriminate and vague" that it violated the U.S. Constitution's requirement of due process of law.

The appeal said that at the Cincinnati hearing each person was questioned as to his possible Communist and subversive activities in Ohio and other states.

Justice Stewart disqualified himself from the supreme court's consideration of the case.

Pope's Doctor Resigns in Vatican Fuss

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, Pope Pius XII's doctor, has resigned as director of Vatican City Health Services. He is under fire for articles he wrote and sold to newspapers recounting the pontiff's final hours.

A letter of resignation dated Oct. 18 was sent to Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Sources close to the Vatican said the resignation was "the only possible solution" to a situation in which the doctor had been condemned by the press and criticized in Parliament.

The National Assn. of the Italian Press unanimously condemned him today for "disturbing comportment" in selling the articles. Newspaper reporters at the Vatican Press Office were told that the College of Cardinals had given instructions to the Swiss Guards that Galeazzi-Lisi is not to be admitted hereafter to Vatican City or Vatican properties outside Vatican City.

One Rome newspaper last week started printing the doctor's series of articles but carried an editor's note saying parts had been deleted because they seemed "too crude."

The Rome Medical Assn. was to meet tonight to consider whether sale of the articles had violated the legal and moral obligations of a doctor.

Galeazzi-Lisi told the press: "I feel completely at rest with my conscience."

"I have not betrayed any professional secrets," he declared. "The medical profession secret ends with the death of the patient."

Gary Cooper Says Horses Are Dumb, Can't Be Trusted

ST. GEORGE, Utah, (AP)—"The horse is a highly overrated animal. They're dumb as hell, and you can't trust them one bit."

Hersey, you say? Perhaps, but our authority is none other than Gary Cooper, one of the few stars with an authentic Western background.

The rangy Montanan gazed up at the red bluffs of this southern Utah wilderness and reflected: "When I was 14 or 15, I used to ride alone for days through country like this." One thing he learned: never trust a horse.

Contrarily, he has learned another axiom in more than 30 years of loping through the movie scene: always trust a horse opera.

Yup, Ole Coop is back in the saddle again after ventures into sports cars and limousines. After

County, Townships Get Tax Shares

Pickaway County, this week will receive $7,329.77 and the county's townships $6,122.40 for final share of 1957 motor vehicle license fees, James A. Rhoades, state auditor, announced today.

The total amount of the license fees throughout the state is $1,598,797.90. According to road mileage, the 88 counties will divide $1,027,798.65 and the 1,331 townships, $570,999.25.

This is money provided by a 1953 change in the law which gave the counties an additional 9 per cent of the auto tag money and townships, 5 per cent. This money had previously gone into the highway department maintenance repair fund.

This week's distribution makes a total of $8,480,174 that the counties and townships received out of 1957 license fees as a result of the 1953 law change.

FRANKLIN COUNTY with the largest road mileage of any county in the state will get the largest check in this week's distribution. Its share is $20,867.32 for 559 1/2 miles of county roads. Hamilton county is next with $18,542.21 for 522 miles, and Muskingum third with $17,878.65 for 508 miles.

Wood county townships with 1,057 miles of township roads will get the largest share of township money, $15,832.92.

Pope's Doctor Resigns in Vatican Fuss

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Prof. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi, Pope Pius XII's doctor, has resigned as director of Vatican City Health Services. He is under fire for articles he wrote and sold to newspapers recounting the pontiff's final hours.

A letter of resignation dated Oct. 18 was sent to Eugene Cardinal Tisserant, dean of the Sacred College of Cardinals.

Sources close to the Vatican said the resignation was "the only possible solution" to a situation in which the doctor had been condemned by the press and criticized in Parliament.

The National Assn. of the Italian Press unanimously condemned him today for "disgusting comportment" in selling the articles.

Newspaper reporters at the Vatican Press Office were told that the College of Cardinals had given instructions to the Swiss Guards that Galeazzi-Lisi is not to be admitted hereafter to Vatican City or Vatican properties outside Vatican City.

One Rome newspaper last week started printing the doctor's series of articles but carried an editor's note saying parts had been deleted because they seemed "too crude."

The Rome Medical Assn. was to meet tonight to consider whether sale of the articles had violated the legal and moral obligations of a doctor.

Galeazzi-Lisi told the press: "I feel completely at rest with my conscience."

"I have not betrayed any professional secrets," he declared. "The medical profession secret ends with the death of the patient."

Gary Cooper Says Horses Are Dumb, Can't Be Trusted

ST. GEORGE, Utah, (AP)—"The horse is a highly overrated animal. They're dumb as hell, and you can't trust them one bit." Heresy, you say? Perhaps, but our authority is none other than Gary Cooper, one of the few stars with an authentic Western background.

The rangy Montanan gazed up at the red bluffs of this southern Utah wilderness and reflected: "When I was 14 or 15, I used to ride alone for days through country like this." One thing he learned: never trust a horse.

Contrarily, he has learned another axiom in more than 30 years of loping through the movie scene: always trust a horse opera.

Yup, Ole Coop is back in the saddle again after ventures into sports cars and limousines. After two middling films, "Love in the Afternoon" and "10 North Frederick," he has done three horse-back pictures in a row.

His latest, "They Came to Cordura," is being filmed in Utah. It's technically not a Western, but there are plenty of horses. Producer William Goetz assembled 300 horses and riders to recreate the last U. S. Cavalry charge during General Pershing's invasion of Mexico in 1916. The rest of the picture largely concerns the trek of Cooper and five others across the Mexican wasteland.

How does it feel to be back on a horse?

"It hurts," Cooper confessed. He explained: "It's painful for me to be in the saddle too long. No, it's not because of an injury I got from a horse. When I was getting started in pictures, I used to take horse falls for $15 a fall and I never had a scratch."

"But I did a lot of skiing after the war, and that's what banged me up."

Newcomers might find profit in a credo that might help explain Cooper's amazing three decades as a star: "I always made it a point to do at least one Western every two years. In years when I did four pictures, usually one of them would be a Western."

Elks Prepare For Initiation

Circleville Elks Lodge will make final preparations tonight for its annual initiation inspection.

The yearly affair, scheduled for November 4, will include a full dinner, initiation, and an appearance of a representative of the Grand Lodge.

Tonight's meeting will be the last session of the local lodge at which proposed candidates for membership can be subject to ballot.

A spokesman for the lodge here said a class of about six candidates is expected for the November affair.

Representing the Grand Exalted Ruler at the November inspection will be Eldon H. Brown of Columbus, the district deputy.
